YUFA Return to Campus Questionnaire Results (February 18, 2022)

The following are member responses to the YUFA return to work questionnaire, which closed at 9am on February 17th.

Q #1: How concerned are you by the current phased return to campus?

564 members responded to Question #1

70.2% of members responded as being concerned or very concerned about the phased return to campus

Full Breakdown of responses:
243 (43.1%) - Very concerned
153 (27.1%) - Somewhat concerned
168 (29.8%) - Not very concerned

Q #2: To what degree do you think the York administration has adopted an approach to return-to-campus that is adequately sensitive to the public safety context of the current stage of the pandemic?

564 members responded to Question #2

72.4% of members responded that the York Administration approach has NOT been adequately sensitive or only somewhat sensitive in adopting a return-to-campus approach sensitive to the public safety context of the current stage of the pandemic.

Full Breakdown of responses:
256 (45.4%) - Not adequately sensitive
152 (29.8%) - Somewhat sensitive
156 (27.7%) - Adequately sensitive

Q #3: To what degree do you think York administration has adopted an approach to the return to campus that is adequately responsive to faculty members' concerns?

564 members responded to Question #3

81.9% of members reported that they think the York Administration has NOT been adequately responsive or only somewhat responsive to faculty members' concerns about return-to-campus.

Full Breakdown of responses:
321 (56.9%) - Not adequately responsive
141 (25%) - Somewhat responsive
152 (29.8%) - Adequately responsive

YUFA Executive members are currently reviewing and analyzing the hundreds of YUFA member comments attached to these questionnaire results.