

HELP COMMUNITY WIND GROW

Community Wind yields a harvest of renewable hope for our rural economic future.

Windustry is a 501(c)(3) nonprofit organization funded through grants and donations from individuals, families, and businesses. Donations support our work in educating rural communities about wind energy, Community Wind, and innovative ownership models; providing continuous updates to the Community Wind Toolbox; presenting webinars on key topics in wind energy; providing technical assistance to communities interested in launching wind energy projects; and advocating for public policy that advances Community Wind. Join Windustry in this work by making a tax-deductible financial donation today. Select a Friend of Windustry level or set your own level of giving.
