

The Canadian Anti-Hate Network is a proudly antifascist, independent, and non-partisan not-for-profit organization.

We monitor and counter hate movements and propagandists

In 2017, the Islamophobic anti-M103 movement had 10,000 to 20,000 supporters.

In 2019, the Yellow Vests had 250,000 supporters, and launched the first convoy.

In 2022, we estimate there are over a million supporters of the COVID conspiracy movement, and some of them occupied Ottawa.

We need to out-organize the far-right. That can only happen with you. ¡No pasarán!

Ways to Fight Hate in Your Community

Monitor

- Do it alone, or establish affinity groups to monitor your local far-right
- We can help and provide support for people looking to increase their operational safety, and with best practices

Document

- Forward reports to us, or to others who publish on the far right, or publish your findings
- If you're a writer, pitch a story to us

Support

- Support local and national antifascist and anti-racist initiatives, as well as mutual aid
- Collaborate with other people in your community to come up with ways to engage the public on initiatives that are important to you
