

The platy-project is an Australian Conservation Foundation initiative to get people out looking for platypus at their nearest river or creek throughout September, to help researchers understand more about this elusive animal.

Join us at our	upcoming placy-project community survey event.

Event:

When:

Location:

Hosted by:

To RSVP, visit:

