

Jay Benitez is a political organizer, campus leader, and America First conservative advocate. He serves as President of the College Republicans at his college, and President of the Turning Point USA chapter, where he focuses on grassroots organizing, voter registration, door-to-door outreach, and mobilizing young conservatives on campus and in the community.

Jay has worked with and spoken alongside prominent figures in the conservative movement, including Charlie Kirk, Steve Bannon, and others. Through Turning Point USA and the Leadership Institute, he regularly attends events and conferences across the country, engaging with high-profile political leaders such as the President, Members of Congress, U.S. Senators, and leading conservative figures and social media influencers.

Jay holds a degree in Political Science with a minor in Economics and is currently continuing his education with the goal of earning his Juris Doctor (JD) in Law, with a focus on Constitutional Law. He is also interning at the U.S. Capitol this year through the Leadership Institute, gaining firsthand experience in the legislative process. His work centers on advancing America First principles, expanding conservative voter turnout, and building durable grassroots infrastructure among young voters.
