IN CASE YOU MISSED IT

The Climate Lens

This is as timely and important a show as we've ever done at the Climate Lens. After what may very likely be the warmest winter season with the least snow in Alberta history, during which the government declared a Stage Four Extreme Drought Warning(!) we reached out to Phillip Meintzer & Kennedy Halvorson, two conservation specialists for the Alberta Wilderness Association to find out what it all means and what we can do about it.

CAMPAIGN CONNECTIONS

Kananaskis Logging Slowdown Campaign

The Hub's Logging Slowdown campaign is working on their goal of protecting the Highwood in Kananaskis from clear-cut logging. A clear-cut could destabilize the headwaters of several rivers, threaten federally protected bull-trout and damage popular recreational areas. For more information on this, and to learn about this threat to water security, biodiversity and more, see the following articles and events:

Bull trout study in Highwood clearcutting area gives environmentalists ammo

Opponents of clearcut logging in Kananaskis Country hope a new field study will help facilitate more assessments

2024 Roundtable on the Crown of the Continent Annual Gathering

Event Overview: We warmly invite you to join us for the Roundtable on the Crown of the Continent's Annual Gathering, a two-day cross-border event taking place in Sikoohktok (Lethbridge). This year, we are thrilled to collaborate with the Kainai Environmental Protection Agency and the Oldman Watershed Council. Our gathering will focus on climate change and conservation, examining these crucial topics from both Indigenous and Western perspectives, with a special emphasis on reconciliation.

Asking Aspens is a community conversation in support of environmental protection. It's part of a collaborative research project in association with the Institute for Community Prosperity and Canadian Parks and Wilderness Society (CPAWS) to explore the question "How might we change online engagement into applied environmental action?". This is a big question, involving a range of fields of inquiry, including ecology, information design, policy studies, management, and communications.
