The CFM website is meant to be more than just an information page – it’s a hub filled with resources, tools, and ideas to support leaders and help families grow in faith and community. We want to spotlight a few “hidden gems” you might not have discovered yet. Share them with your group members, and they could spark new energy, deepen engagement with the CFM mission, and even help welcome new families into the fold!

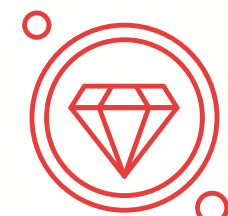

About halfway down our homepage, you’ll find a beautiful 3.5-minute promotional video – just the right length for ministry fairs, CFM info events, or any presentation to your priest, parish council, potential new members, or your group.

This next gem is tucked under the “About” tab on the top navigation bar. It’s a one-page treasure that covers the who, what, where, why, and how of CFM—perfect for anyone who asks, “So, what is CFM, and what makes it different from other family ministries?”

Want to share it easily? Contact the National Office to request a printable PDF.

For the history buffs out there here are some gems you won’t want to miss! You’ll find a comprehensive history of CFM on the website—both as a video (located at the bottom of the “About” page) and as a PDF book under “History.”

If you’re ready for a deeper dive, you can even follow a link to explore historical CFM docs that have been archived at Notre Dame.

Can you find the link?

If you’re looking for a way to prepare for each Sunday using the Observe, Judge, Act method, then this next gem is for you. Located under the Materials tab (at the very bottom), you’ll find a weekly Gospel reflection blog called The Nazareth Page. These reflections are short and perfect for helping you and your group members reflect on and enter more deeply into the Gospel each Sunday.

Maybe you've noticed this next gem but didn't give it much attention. The Subscribe button - located at the top of the page - may be small, but it's mighty!

If your group members haven't subscribed yet, please encourage them to do so—it only takes a minute and is one of the easiest ways we stay connected as a community.

After all, staying connected to one another is one of the greatest treasures we have!

These are just a few of the tools and resources you'll find on the CFM website—each one a little gem to help and inspire you as you lead and grow your action groups. As always, we'd love to hear from you and are here to support you in any way we can.

Happy treasure hunting—and thank you for all you do to help CFM families shine.
