MAKE FRIENDS | MAKE DISCIPLES | MAKE A DIFFERENCE!

ENDING THE YEAR WELL

In the coming weeks, many CFM action groups will be gathering for their final meeting of the season and preparing to take a break for the summer. Last meetings can feel like tying up loose ends—but they are valuable opportunities for reflection and intentional planning.

Action group leaders have a unique opportunity to help their group members reflect, give thanks, and step into summer with intention. With a bit of thoughtful preparation you can help your group finish the year well and consider how to carry the spirit of CFM into Summer.

Plan accordingly so you have time at the end of your final meeting to invite members to reflect on their CFM experiences over the past months.

You'll likely find it more fruitful if you let them know ahead of time that this will be part of your gathering.

OJA is the way

Celebrate the ways God has been at work within your group!

Bring the year to a close by reflecting with your members on the many blessings you've shared together.

Observe:

Share a simple example of how your participation in CFM this year made a difference in your family or daily life.

Judge:

In what ways did our CFM group support one another and reach out to others in the community this year?

Act:

- Continue practicing the OJA method in your daily life.
- Keep your group members connected by planning an informal "family fun" gathering or service project during the summer.
- Share your love of CFM with others in your parish or community and invite new families to join your CFM group in the fall.
