New and Improved Park Spaces

As councillor of the highest density ward in our city, I know how important park space and community amenities can be, and I'm moving to deliver results.

New and improved park spaces will begin construction at: Market Lane Park, Anniversary Park, Barbara Hall Park including the reconstruction of the off-leash area for dogs), Orphans Green, and a new park at 15 Wellesley St East.

Spring Update 2026

It's been a very busy fall and winter in Toronto Centre and at City Hall, and I'm proud to see that more and more results are visibly taking shape.

Together, we've made real progress and delivered real results. Encampments in our parks are now virtually zero: the plan that my team and I have put in place, in conjunction with fast responses by our City's social services staff, has meant that hundreds of people have now come out of the cold and into supportive and transitional housing, where they can better access the supports and services they need.

Similarly, here in Toronto Centre we've achieved 10,257 housing starts: we're building and delivering more housing and affordable housing. We've acquired a new, much larger building for the St Lawrence Library to move to in a couple of years so that it can serve Moss Park as well. We even made our voices heard and reversed a proposed cut to the Downtown East Action Plan – which now will really start ramping up this spring and summer.

We've opened not one but two new TTC lines so all of us can get around Toronto better . . . and yes, they've been going through some teething issues, but they've also led to the rapid adoption of a city-wide plan to speed up all of our LRT surface routes, which will result in better transit all across Toronto.

We're well on the way to having the Church-Wellesley Village designated as a cultural district, which will help keep our Village vibrant and thriving. Barbara Hall Park is in the process of a significant revitalization, and the strategy we developed for Off-Leash Areas for dogs has been scaled up city-wide, so there will be more and better options for all our doggos.

These are just a few of all the improvements happening here in Downtown Toronto. Find out more: sign up for my monthly e-newsletter at www.ChrisMoise.ca.

I'm working hard for you – and for all of our neighbourhoods and communities.

Update from Councillor Chris Moise

We Did It: Downtown East Action Plan Now Fully Funded!

I cannot overstate the importance of the Action Plan in addressing many of the challenges that are still holding all of Downtown Toronto back. Historically, our eastern downtown has been ground zero for litter, graffiti, vandalism, neglect, and cleanliness challenges, which spiral into larger issues.

Just one month ago, a significant cut loomed for the Downtown East Action Plan in the City's 2026 Budget. Thanks to the passionate input of residents and businesses in our Ward, that cut has been reversed and the Downtown East Action Plan will be fully funded and moving full speed ahead with its safety, cleanliness, and revitalization measures. Thanks to Mayor Chow for prioritizing this with the budget.

Because the Action Plan is fully funded, 2026 is about to become the year where we make real progress on addressing these issues.

This funding will now support Clean Streets, Community Outreach, and Harm Reduction teams, as well as Community Safety initiatives to ensure that our neighbourhoods are clean, safe, inviting, and welcoming.

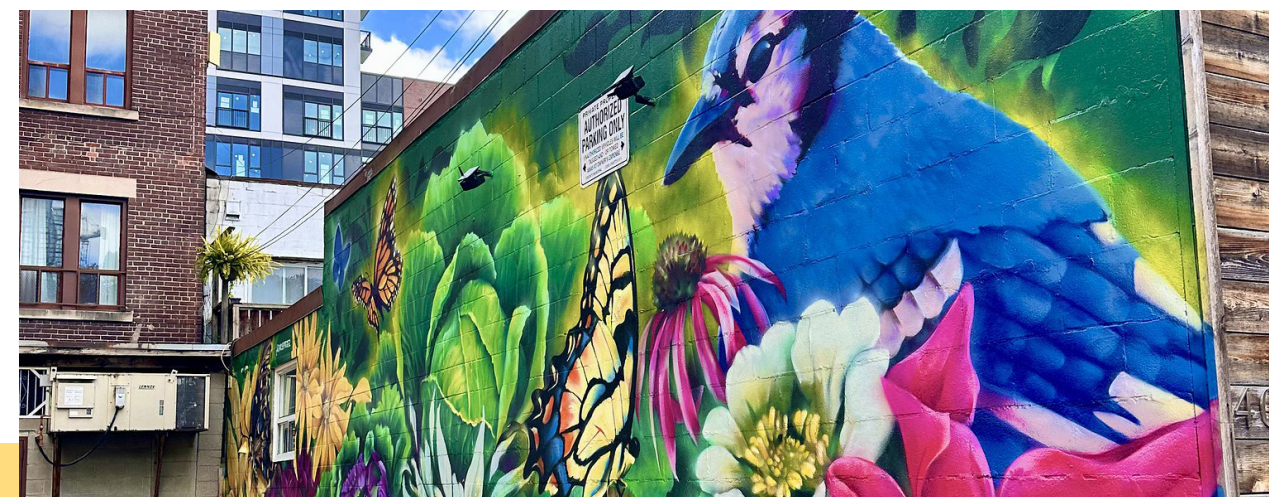

DELAYED

Doug Ford Delays Gerrard St Reconstruction

The reconstruction of Gerrard St East from Sherbourne Street to River Street, which should have begun in 2023, has been postponed by Doug Ford and the Ontario government due to ongoing legal challenges to Bill 60 "Fighting Delays, Building Faster Act, 2025".

Complete streets that enable downtown residents to cycle safely are one of the most important ways we can fight gridlock and promote exercise and healthy lifestyles. It is truly unfortunate that Doug Ford would continue to play politics with the safety of downtown residents who are looking to cycle safely and ease gridlock.

Your City's Budget Highlights for 2026

I've been working hard with the Mayor and Council to ensure that this year's city budget is investing in what's important and serving us better.

The TTC fare freeze continues to remain in effect for its third year. We're investing in Toronto Police, and in the Toronto Community Crisis Response Team.

At the same time, we found $788 million in reductions and efficiencies - that's $108m more than last year.

- * Hiring more police, fire, paramedic & mental health workers
- * 20% tax break for small businesses
- * Major renovations for Moss Park Arena

- * Investing in youth programs for skills, training, and development
- * Regent Park e-Zamboni charging shed
- * Riverdale Farm repairs
- * Chiller and roof replacement for St Lawrence Community Centre
- * $100,000 for winter and hygiene care drop-in centres
- * $185,000 for the Toronto Tenant Support Program
- * $90,000 for a Toronto Seniors Housing Corporation pest removal strategy

Taking Action on 233 Carlton

If you haven't yet read Andre Bermon's coverage in The Bridge about the outrageous overspending on 233 Carlton - which is supposed to be a women's resource and drop-in centre that hasn't opened yet - you really should. It's appalling.

The agreement entered into by City Staff using delegated authority, whose costs spiked far beyond anything reasonable, all while keeping myself and the rest of Council in the dark.

Every reasonable person should be outraged. I've personally submitted an administrative inquiry to get to the bottom of this. People's hard-earned tax dollars deserve respect, and every dollar needlessly wasted is money diverted from services that people need.

I'm taking action to ensure that this never happens again by enhancing accountability measures on projects that do not have council oversight, and lowering the threshold for when they take effect.

Special thanks to Toronto Centre's Andre Bermon and The Bridge for their excellent reporting on this.

58 New Traffic Agents

Downtown Toronto's successful Traffic Agent program continues to grow, with 58 new agents bringing the total to 100 active agents deployed to some of our city's most congested intersections during peak traffic periods.
