

Sustainable Community: EcoVillages & Cohousing

Holding Space

Be fully present, aware of what's happening in the whole gathering right now—physically, energetically, emotionally, and intellectually. Open and hold the psychological and spiritual space to provide a steady centre and container. Calmly maintain trust, safety, and focus.

Shared leadership & management: deepen community

Iceland Camp-Hill style: Neuro-Inclusive Community Design

Lessons from Sólheimar-Ecovillage

Get past denial, isolation, and segregation, and gain powerful choices with and beyond market solutions. Co-create support networks to help each other have our own homes and maintain independence. Find meaning, spirit and value in lives that blend community and privacy. Actively create vibrant new communities.

Group Works: tools to build community

A pattern language of group process in 91 cards

Community Organizer Betsy Morris, PhD is bringing an urban-planning perspective to community development. Ask her about Tiny Home EcoVillages, and the Social Housing movement and how it relates to Social Farming.

We help people with:

- Cohousing neighborhoods
- EcoVillage communities
- Slow Money Investment
- Affordability Innovations
- Sharing Economy Webinars
- Transition Town collaboration
- Tours of area communities
- Group Formation workshops
- Finding Community: Networks
- Community Development

Within Reach

Journey to Find Sustainable Community

Learn about the movement! Visits over 100 communities

WithinReachMovie.com

Talk to Cohousing Coaches
Raines Cohen & Betsy Morris
OpenUp@CohousingOpen.org

510-842-6224
in Berkeley, CA

CohousingOpen.org
/care_farming