

JUSTICE FOR WORKERS

DECENT WORK FOR ALL

WORKERS DEMAND

- End to racism and discrimination in the workplace
- At least 10 paid sick days for all
- $20 minimum wage
- Decent hours
- Access to a union
- Equal pay for equal work
- Protection for temp agency workers
- Permanent residency status for all

TEXT JUSTICE TO 825-425-1401
Justice4Workers.org

JUSTICE FOR WORKERS

DECENT WORK FOR ALL

WORKERS DEMAND

- End to racism and discrimination in the workplace
- At least 10 paid sick days for all
- $20 minimum wage
- Decent hours
- Access to a union
- Equal pay for equal work
- Protection for temp agency workers
- Permanent residency status for all

TEXT JUSTICE TO 825-425-1401
Justice4Workers.org

COVID 19 has exposed how low wages, unstable work and unsafe working conditions are a health threat - not only to us as workers, but also to our families and communities.

Systemic racism in the labour market means Black workers, Indigenous workers, workers of colour and new immigrants are over-represented in low-wage and temporary work, with no paid sick days, not enough hours, juggling two or more jobs to pay the bills and more likely to be without paid sick days or health benefits.

Across Ontario workers are organizing more than ever before to win justice for workers and decent work for all! Decent work means better wages – including a $20 minimum wage; at least 10 permanent sick days; decent hours; stronger protection at work, safer working conditions; easier access to unions; permanent residency status for all; and so much more.

During the pandemic we all saw how Premier Doug Ford's Conservative government failed workers time and time again by not making sure essential workers were safe and protected on the job.

For example, it was only after relentless pressure that Ford introduced three temporary paid sick days. We need much more than three paid sick days but this win shows what can happen when we act together.

To make our temporary wins permanent and to win justice for all, we need many more people to join us! We need a movement that can challenge politicians who fail to stand up for workers and instead side with large corporations.

In short: we need you. Please join the fight for decent work.

TEXT JUSTICE TO 825-425-1401
Justice4Workers.org

COVID 19 has exposed how low wages, unstable work and unsafe working conditions are a health threat - not only to us as workers, but also to our families and communities.

Systemic racism in the labour market means Black workers, Indigenous workers, workers of colour and new immigrants are over-represented in low-wage and temporary work, with no paid sick days, not enough hours, juggling two or more jobs to pay the bills and more likely to be without paid sick days or health benefits.

Across Ontario workers are organizing more than ever before to win justice for workers and decent work for all! Decent work means better wages – including a $20 minimum wage; at least 10 permanent sick days; decent hours; stronger protection at work, safer working conditions; easier access to unions; permanent residency status for all; and so much more.

During the pandemic we all saw how Premier Doug Ford's Conservative government failed workers time and time again by not making sure essential workers were safe and protected on the job.

For example, it was only after relentless pressure that Ford introduced three temporary paid sick days. We need much more than three paid sick days but this win shows what can happen when we act together.

To make our temporary wins permanent and to win justice for all, we need many more people to join us! We need a movement that can challenge politicians who fail to stand up for workers and instead side with large corporations.

In short: we need you. Please join the fight for decent work.

TEXT JUSTICE TO 825-425-1401
Justice4Workers.org