Decent Work for all

By fighting together, workers raised wages and improved working conditions.

But too many workers still face low wages, dangerous working conditions, and unfair treatment. This is especially true for racialized workers and others facing discrimination in the labour market.

Join the movement for decent work and justice for all workers.

Together, workers are demanding at least $20 an hour for all, 10 paid sick days, decent hours, better workplace protections, easier access to unions, and more.
