WE DEFEND FREEDOM

Media Weaponized Against Those Seeking The Truth

by Dexter Liu

I came across a story about several mass shootings while checking my more reliable news sources recently. It was a story about four mass shootings where apparently the perpetrators were transgender, or self-identified as not of the sex of their biological birth. It seems these were four incidents that happened over as many years but while I seem to recall hearing about them, there does not seem to have been a lingering anti-gun campaign that typically exploits mass shootings to bludgeon us with cries for gun confiscations, more gun-control laws and the usual propaganda buzz exploiting the victims' tragic losses and their unspeakable pain. These cases seemed to have been quietly swept under the rug so to speak as not that much buzz lingers. So, I decided to do a little more digging to see what of these stories made them fade away from public view seemingly more rapidly than past mass shootings.

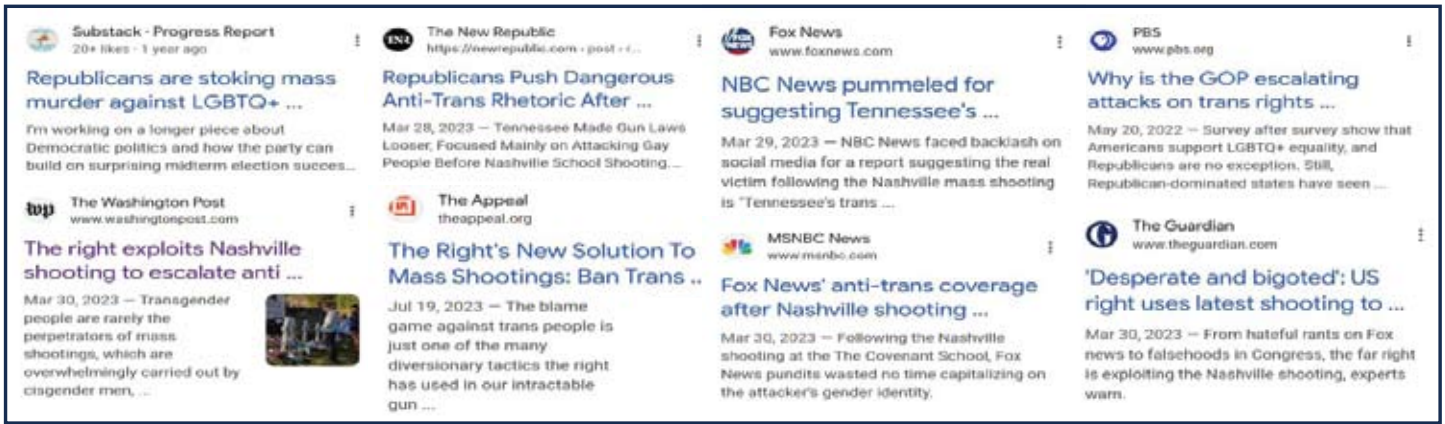

These cases happened at different times, different locations and appeared to be unrelated. Here is what I found: On September 20th, 2018, Snochia Moseley, a transgender, opened fired on employees at a Rite Aid Corporation facility in Aberdeen Maryland killing four. May 7th, 2019, Maya "Alec" McKinney, born a female but identified as male, shot up a school in Castle Rock Colorado with a teen partner killing one and injuring eight students. November 20th, 2022, Anderson Lee Aldrich, who self-identified as non-binary, entered Club Q, a gay nightclub in Colorado Springs Colorado and opened fired killing five and injuring twenty-five patrons. March 27th, 2023, Audrey Elisabeth Hale, a transgender, opened fired at a Christian school in Nashville Tennessee, killing six people.

As I read up on these cases to my utter amazement while most of the articles did corroborate the accounts and reported the shootings reasonably accurately, the editorializing from the overwhelming majority of the mainstream press presented their stories in an entirely different context with extreme emphasis on debunking any notion that there might be a transgender violence problem at all. They were doing cartwheels bringing up statistics, "gun-violence" studies (Leftwing studies of course) to prove that these shootings were only an anomaly and not as some had suggested a pattern of a potentially growing menace. Reuters, MSNBC, CNN, ABC, AP, USA Today, Newsweek, etc. all appeared to be in lockstep as each of them recounted the facts of the shootings but editorialized their stories in a manner as to savage the reactions from conservative Republican to these shootings. They attacked those who dared question if this might be a "pattern" of deadly transgender-shooters born out of today's Transgender Movement.

The mainstream press labelled those who spoke up as "right-wing-influencers" who are deliberately concocting a "fear mongering campaign" exploiting these "coincidental-unrelated-isolated" cases to attacks the peaceful loving transgender community! Gone were the usual focus and empathy for the actual shooting victims as if where these cases are concerned the victims were the transgender shooters.

They are the ones ensnared in a horrific right-wing Republican smear campaign that impugns the good reputation of the transgender community. These mainstream sources pointed fingers, accusing Senator Cruz, Republican of Texas, Georgia Congresswoman Marjorie Taylor-Green (the favorite punching bag of the Leftwing Press), Elon Musk because he dared to tweet on this topic and even Donald Trump Jr. of being a hateful homophobic right-wing influencers hell bent on perpetuating a lie in "vicious attacks" on the innocent transgender community. Is this not a case where the pot is calling the kettle black? Is that not exactly what these so called "journalists" do to attack conservative Republicans every chance they get? What was glaringly absent was any mention of the horrific mass killings, the real victims of these crimes and the usual parade of heartbroken loved ones.

Well, it was clear to me that all of the mainstream Leftwing press got the memo. Each of their articles and presentations had a two-part agenda: A. to defend the Transgender Movement, and B. To savage anyone who dared insinuate that there might be anything problematic with the Transgender Movement or that transgender activism might raise serious mental health concerns including mass-murder. After reading the Leftwing news articles it sure appeared to me all these publications worked with the same editorial desk. These articles in fact were weaponized to attack and impugn the characters of conservatives like Senator Cruz, Representative Green, Don Jr. and Elon Musk and it all smacks of a well-orchestrated and coordinated political smear campaign because these conservatives dared to speak the truth. What was most stunning to me was just how well synchronized these media sources were in rendering rescue to the transgender killers and circling the wagons around the Transgender Movement. Try searching for yourselves and type in "transgender shootings" into a search engine and you will be amazed.

After having been thoroughly disgusted by the dishonesty and corruption of our mainstream media, my question to you is, "What if the four shooters were not transgender but instead, they self-identify as MAGA supporters, can you just imagine the Holy Hell of a maelstrom of media firestorm the same dishonest mainstream news media would be raining down on America then?"
