

We are the Majority and It's Time for the Majority to Stand Up, Speak Up, and Get Involved.

In this week's briefing, North Carolina's Lieutenant Governor, Mark Robinson, joins Kevin Freeman in our Economic War Room® as we review Lt. Governor Robinson's life growing up in poverty and rise to statewide leadership. And we also discuss the importance of exercising our God-given rights as law-abiding, American citizens as the majority! Robinson shares why we must take action to stop the minority left from stealing those rights from us.

In addition, we review the following topics:

- What the minority is pushing back on to making the majority feel out of touch.
- What the minority is trying to accomplish in this nation that we, the majority, must not let happen.
- How the U.S. is approaching a political and moral crossroads.
- How the midterm elections could determine the future of our country.
- How do we make America great?

YOUR MISSION: It's time to fight for our rights and turn our country around to be the great nation we were called to be.

- You – the majority – need to stand up and proclaim to the world that God gave us our rights. And we're going to hold on to our rights. We're going to do what we need to do.

"We're the ones that make this country succeed. We, the People, are the rightful masters of the United States and our destiny. It's time for us to take our places in the political arena. We are the majority and now is the time for the majority to stand up, speak up, and get involved." –Lt. Gov. Mark Robinson

⚠ ATTENTION: Know you're not alone. God indeed gave you your rights and there are a majority of others out there who believe like you and think like you. We're being punished for things that we didn't do. We're the first ones taxed, the first ones punished, and the last ones considered. Now is the time to take action and fight back. We CAN restore America, but it demands the unified efforts of the majority to make the truth known.

Ep. 6-212 (OSINT) Open-Sourced Intelligence Report. This briefing includes conversations between Kevin Freeman and Lt. Governor Mark Robinson in the Economic War Room®. Lt. Governor Mark Robinson is an American politician serving as the 35th lieutenant governor of North Carolina since 2021. A member of the Republican Party, he is the first African-American to hold the office.

He's a proud Army veteran. He's a devoted husband, father, and grandfather. He was the ninth of 10 children and grew up in poverty.

Mark credits his mother's leadership for cultivating a foundation for his faith and an understanding that, with hard work, he could achieve anything. And he certainly has. In his professional life, Mark has worked in various industries, including a long stint in furniture manufacturing. Unfortunately, like a lot of people in manufacturing during the implementation of NAFTA, he lost not one, but two manufacturing jobs. In addition, he was also blessed to start, run, and sell a successful small business with his wife. For taking a stand, he's now a true hero of hardworking Americans. He's been featured at CPAC in Texas and on international news.

1. From Speaking at a City Council to Lt. Governor.

The new platform Mark was given when he decided it was time to take a stand.

Four years ago, Mark attended a Greenville City Council meeting and stood up for what he knew to be the truth. He gave an impassioned defense of the Second Amendment, and that speech was captured on video. It's been viewed over 200 million times online (click here Mark Robinson at Greensboro NC City Council on Gun Show)

Lt. Governor Robinson has continued to speak out with common sense conservatism, and as a result, he was elected as the first black Lieutenant Governor in North Carolina history, an office in which he currently serves.

Lt. Governor Robinson is making an impression nationally with his new book titled, "We Are the Majority: The Life and Passions of a Patriot". He's setting the stage. People are following him on social media and news outlets across the country.

Americans are reading his book and saying, "Hey, that's what I believe". But they were afraid to say it out loud. They were afraid to say it because they thought they'd be called racist or maybe too far right wing. Lt. Governor Robinson is speaking the truth in love, regardless.

"Be strong and courageous. Do not fear or be in dread of them, for it is the LORD your God who goes with you. He will not leave you or forsake you (ESV, Deuteronomy 31:6)."

2. Background: A look at Lt Gov. Robinson's life early on.

The importance of setting the standard and the values for yourself and your children.

Mark Robinson describes how he grew up in a somewhat nontraditional family.

"I say that it's a nontraditional family, but certainly not unlike the experiences of many people. My mom was married twice, had five children with her first husband and five children with my dad."

Life as he explains it:

- I grew up as number nine of the total 10 but grew up in a household of really five children. We had some tough times and were very poor.
- My father was much older than my mother and he was retired, and we lived off his retirement and basically off welfare.
- But when my father passed away, my mother decided she wasn't going to live off welfare, although she could have. She was advised by friends that she could and told how much money she could make living off welfare.
- Welfare wasn't the standard she wanted to set for herself or children. "She went to work as a custodian at a university. When she took over and took the reins of our family, I'm telling you, we went to heights we had never seen."

KEY POINT:

It really set a standard in my life that says, 'You don't need to wait on the government to take care of you. You need to get out and make a living for yourself.' The same way my mom did. And that's what I've been doing ever since. And like I said, the greatest hero of my life is my mom. And she really set the standard for us."

"Dr. Ben Carson was sitting where you're sitting here not long ago, and he told his story, made into both a book and movie with the title, Gifted Hands. And he grew up in poverty, too. But his mom said, 'You've got to learn to read'. And she is his hero as well. So, over and over, the importance of mothers and family.

Government can't raise kids. We need family." —Kevin Freeman

Robinson Reflects On The Importance of the Church, Values, and His Personal Relationship with Christ

"I grew up in church my entire life. I tell people all the time that amongst my brothers and sisters and I, we would sit around, and we'd talk. And I look back and think about the deep conversations we had, even as children. But all of those conversations that we had, they all centered around just a few things. And those things were: what was right and what was wrong, what was fair and what was unfair. And then ultimately, what God said about it.

But the one thing that I found that I was missing was in church. I found it later as a young man. My best friend invited me to go to a church one day at a student union at the university where my mom worked and where we were attending at that time. And I heard a message there that night, and that was the night that I got saved."

3. The Impact of NAFTA on Robinson's career, the furniture industry and North Carolina.

Early in Robinson's career – the average working citizen:

He worked in furniture manufacturing for about 20 years and also worked in a restaurant industry. He also owned a small business that he and his wife built. It was a daycare center that was quite successful. Through it all he discovered his passion was with teaching. While working in the furniture business he also went to school with the goal of being a history teacher.

"My goal was to become a history professor at the college level, which I still hope to do at some point. Once I gave that speech at the city council; it just completely changed the trajectory of my life." —Lt. Gov. Mark Robinson

LESSONS IN HISTORY – How North Carolina’s Furniture Industry Was Exported Through Economic Warfare from Foreign Competition.

Ross Perot was right, that giant sucking sound was jobs being taken away from Americans.

“NAFTA pretty much destroyed the furniture industry. North Carolina was known for its furniture, Thomasville furniture and others. They dumped on those factories that dominated our landscape.

“And now it’s so sad when you drive down to those areas and you drive through those once great places and you see them left derelict, businesses gone, jobs gone, the economy around there, those areas depressed, all because of bad federal policy.

“I got involved in politics and started becoming politically aware about the time that NAFTA took place, and it’s something that’s always stuck with me. The effects of bad federal policy. How it can come right to your doorstep.” —Lt. Gov. Mark Robinson

4. The Importance of Taking a Stand – Robinson’s stand for liberty.

Lt. Gov. Mark Robinson explains why he decided to take a public stand for what was right.

- He found out that the city council was trying to cancel the gun show because of events, tragic events, that happened in Florida.
- He felt he had to be a part of that meeting in person

Robinson took a stand and the words he spoke inspired the majority.

“The message we delivered was just simply that we shouldn’t be punished for things that we didn’t do. And one of the statements that I made in that speech that I firmly believe is, the law abiding, hardworking, American citizen is always the first one taxed, the first one punished, and the last one considered. All the time. You see it time and time again.

It’s time for the law-abiding American citizen to stand up and say, hey, we’re the ones that make this engine go round. We’re the rightful masters of this place and our destiny. It’s time for them to take their places in the political arena.” —Lt. Gov. Mark Robinson

5. Get Lt Gov. Robinson's New Book, "We Are the Majority: The Life and Passions of a Patriot."

It's time to reclaim the word Majority!

"The book was about two years in the making. I wrote a manuscript and then it sat for a while. And just by chance, we were put in contact with the publisher. They liked the manuscript. We fleshed it out and worked on it, and we got it done." —Lt. Gov. Mark Robinson

Robinson shares, "We Are the Majority," we need to reclaim that word MAJORITY."

- For far too long, the news media has characterized the majority as white males in this country. That is not the majority.
- The majority are the people of all races, all sexes, all classes who get up every day, go to work, work hard, follow the rules, pay their taxes and all the associated things, and try to do the right thing. Follow the law and follow the rules.
- That is the majority, and that is the class of people in this country that is getting browbeat and getting run over and getting taken advantage of and left behind.

The title of the book is, "We Are the Majority," and it is for those people to say, "Hey, we are the majority. Stand up. Let's take this country back."

"I'm getting chills because that is what a spokesman for the majority is. That's why people watch that YouTube video so many times. That's why they love you as the Lieutenant Governor. When Dr. Carson was here, he said animals have very small frontal lobes. And as a result, all they think about is what they see. And they judge people immediately by what they look like.

On the other hand, human beings can judge people by what they accomplish, what they believe, how they act. And what you just did is the definition of the majority - God fearing, family loving Americans." —Kevin Freeman

"Everybody is included in that. Everybody who believes in following the rules and following the law and doing it right. And people who you know, those folks out there who believe in standing for the flag, kneeling for the cross, all those things. That's the majority of the people in this country. The majority of people in this country know the right thing, want to do the right thing, and want things to be great. And in order for us to get this country back to where it needs to be, that majority needs to stand up, to speak up, and get involved." —Lt. Gov. Mark Robinson

"We Are the Majority" chronicles Robinson's life story, it chronicles his rise into politics and what may be happening in the future for the US.

It's available online on Amazon, Walmart. It's also in stores right now, like Books-a-Million. You can get the book from just about any platform.

You can learn more about Lt. Gov. Mark Robinson at <https://ltgov.nc.gov/>.

"For God has not given us a spirit of fear, but of power and of love and of a sound mind (NKJV, 2 Timothy 1:7)."

6. A look at what the minority is trying to accomplish in this nation and what we, the majority, are not going to let happen?

Robinson shares:

- The number one thing that we need to focus on is to keep the Constitution in place.
- When people talk about the Second Amendment being attacked, the only reason why they're attacking the Second Amendment is for the same reason I believe the communists attacked Russia.
- The Communists moved into Russia first because Russia was the weakest European nation at the time.
  - They had the greatest opportunity and greatest number of people to control the sphere of influence over. So, they moved into Russia first.

- The weakest link right now in the Constitution (to emotional assault) is our Second Amendment.
  - It's that low hanging fruit that they can go after and point out these things through feelings and through passion and through fear.

WARNING: The Second Amendment is just the first step. Once they get that Second Amendment, then the first is going, and then the third, and then the fourth, and all the Bill of Rights, and the Constitution right after it.

We have to be fierce defenders of the Second Amendment, because it's not just about the Second Amendment. It's about the entire Constitution.

The Rule of Law is Under Threat as Well!

[The rule of law is defined in the Encyclopedia Britannica as “the mechanism, process, institution, practice, or norm that supports the equality of all citizens before the law, secures a nonarbitrary form of government, and more generally prevents the arbitrary use of power.”]

- We have got to hold on to that Constitution. Of course, coupled with that is the rule of law. And we see that going out the window more and more every day. You won't go to jail if you don't steal more than $900, cashless bail that makes this a revolving door of crime.
- Not just of crime, but of misery. People are being victimized over and over again by the same [criminal] folks.

That includes the border.

“The border towns are going nuts. Then they put people on buses and ship them to Washington, D.C. and Chicago. The mayors there are complaining when they get a handful of people compared to what we get here in Texas. And the cartels seem to be running the border now rather than US border patrol.” —Kevin Freeman

- If the border is wide open, guess what's coming through -- gangs and the drugs that they bring with them. It's common sense.
- We're all seeing the ill effects of the proliferation of drugs. A news report said they couldn't figure out why opioid deaths have spiked so much in the last two years. So, they tried to blame it on the pandemic.
- It's not the pandemic. It's the fact that we've had a president in office for two years that's let the border be wide open.

Education is under Threat

"Education is a huge part of it. And unfortunately, in education, we're seeing a lot of that stuff being proliferated. But as education goes in any state, in any community, in any nation, so goes that nation, state, or that community. And we're seeing lots of our communities, and of course our nation, suffer as a whole because of the lack of true education in this country." —Lt. Gov. Mark Robinson

7. The U.S. is approaching political and moral crossroads and how the midterm elections could determine the future of our country.

It's follow the constitution or go down the path of collectivism, socialism, and communism. Robinson shares how we can stay on the right path and where will it take us.

- The number one thing that we need to do is tell our friends and neighbors about the situation that we face.
  - For example, in North Carolina, people call North Carolina a purple state. I don't believe that. I believe North Carolina is solid red.
- The problem is we don't have the engagement that we need.
  - You look at the numbers of evangelicals that don't vote. You look at the amount of minorities, Hispanics, and black people who do not vote.
  - We need engagement. If we get in front of those folks, if we tell them the message about how conservatism is the answer and how principles work, but "ideas" don't.

Why principles work and ideas don't.

- Look at the Green New Deal. It's an idea. It has very little principle behind it. When asked, how are we going to pay for this, nobody knows.
  - When asked, what effect is the Green New Deal is going to have on our economy, nobody knows.
  - When they're asked, how is this going to change anything, they can't give a definite answer.
  - Ideas are great, but ideas only work if you place principles behind them.
- The idea of the airplane was a fantastic image in someone's head, but it did not become a working vehicle until the Wright brothers put the principle of lift into action and made it so.
- That's the difference between conservatives and our opponents on the other side of the aisle or opposition on the other side of the aisle. The opposition operates under ideas, we operate off principles.

“We put those principles into action in North Carolina, and we change the economic future and the economic structure of North Carolina. The engine is firing on all cylinders. Why? Because we put conservative principles into place.”

We need to get out and tell people about who conservatives actually are, and stop letting the news media do that.

“The reality of it is you're among the conservatives. I'm among the conservatives. There are a lot of beautiful men and women of all races that are conservatives.”

—Kevin Freeman

- That's exactly right. And that's the story we need to start telling our friends and our neighbors.
  - If we do that, it will energize the people who are not engaged. And those are the folks we need to be going after, the unengaged.
- There are too many of them out there who are not engaged in this process and don't understand.

- People say, I don't do politics. Yes, you do. If you get out of bed, you do politics.
- As matter of fact, if you're in your grave, you're doing politics. No matter who you are, if you live in this place, you're doing politics. And truth be told, if you don't do politics, politicians are going to do you in.

8. How do we make America great?

ATTENTION: If we continue to embrace these ideas of socialism and communism, you can bet that misery is in our future.

- We make America great not by having a revolution, but by having a revival.
  - What's the difference between a revolution and revival? The revolution is when you try something new. A revival is when you turn back to those time-honored traditions and principles that made this nation great.
- We need to go back to educating our children instead of indoctrinating our children.
  - We need to tell our children that this nation was built by people, good people of all colors, all stripes, all religions who came together and wanted to do the right thing.
- We need to make our country business friendly.
  - We need to stop this foolish notion that the world needs to be run according to some climate change science that has done nothing but lie to people over the last 30 or 40 years.
- We've got to get back to the commonsense principles that built this nation and gave us the prosperity that we have.
  - If we go back to those principles, those principles that are based on God's word and based on solid economic and scientific principles that have built the things that we have in this nation, we'll continue to see this nation flourish.

WARNING: If we continue to embrace the ideas of socialism and communism, you can bet that misery is in our future.

"Show me on the globe where socialism or communism has worked? It does not work. It does not work as an ideology. It does not work as a government structure. All it does is bring misery and destruction and death." —Lt. Gov. Mark Robinson

Look at the places that are working right now?

- These places that are run by principle, run by those time-honored traditions that we've followed that always bring that desired result. Those places are flourishing, like Florida, North Carolina, and Texas.
- And the places that are running off of these wild-eyed, leftist ideas, they are literally crumbling beneath the people's feet.
- In San Francisco, a once shining, beautiful city is now being destroyed. Los Angeles the same way. Chicago the same way. New York City the same way. Cities in the upper northwest, the same way. That's got to stop.

People have got to turn back to what works and stop embracing these crazy ideas. The reality is, that the places that embrace those crazy ideas, claiming there will be greater equality, are terrible for minorities.

"If they continue on that path, they will have greater equality because there'll be a greater number of people sharing equal misery at the bottom, and a greater number of people sharing elitism at the top. But as far as having true equality, true opportunity, and a true spirit of success, no, they won't see that under those ideals."

"I think there are a bunch of people who want to return to the medieval serf times where you've got the elite, and you've got the serfs, and they run and own everything. Well, wait a minute. Isn't that what the World Economic Forum is saying?" —Kevin Freeman

- That's the same premise of communism, just look at the Soviet Union.
- The party members had all the advantages. The average working person was just there to provide party members with possessions.
- That's not how God intended it to be in this nation.
- And what we're facing now is a choice in the midterm elections.

Why Should You Care?

Our God-given rights as law-abiding, American citizens, and as the majority, must take action to stop the minority left from stealing those rights. It's time to fight for our rights and turn our country around to be the great nation we were called to be.

- » The majority of people in this country are hardworking, law-abiding, American citizens who God has given unalienable (cannot be taken away) rights through our constitution.
- » We need to keep the Constitution in place.
- » Once they get that Second Amendment, then the first is going, and then the third, and then the fourth, and all the Bill of Rights, and the Constitution right after it.
- » We must be fierce defenders of the Second Amendment, because it's not just about the Second Amendment. It's about the entire Constitution.
- » The U.S. is approaching political and moral crossroads and the midterm elections could determine the future of our country.
- » If we continue to embrace the ideas of socialism and communism, misery will be in our future.
- » We, the majority, can make America great. We've got to get back to the commonsense principles that built this nation and gave us the prosperity that we have. If we go back to those principles, those principles that are based on God's word and based on solid economic and scientific principles that have built the things that we have in this nation, we'll continue to see this nation flourish.
- » We CAN restore America, but it demands the unified efforts of the majority to make the truth known.
