

Australia First Policy

Core Value FREEDOM

Family First believes that all Australians, regardless of origin, benefit from the shared Judeo-Christian values which made our nation attractive to the myriads of people who now call it home. Our unique Australian culture and values must be preserved for the benefit of the nation's future generations.

Family First believes in the sovereignty of the nation state and while cooperation with other nations at bi-lateral and multi-lateral levels is desirable, this must not be at the expense of the nation's self-government and independent identity.

Family first will seek to build our nation by:

- Giving priority to genuine refugees and skilled migrants who will assimilate with Australia's cultural values and norms, while significantly reducing our current immigration numbers;
- Ending division amongst Australians by flying only one national flag;
- Fostering unity among Australians by discontinuing the use of Acknowledgement of Country and Welcome to Country ceremonies;
- Opposing the divisive governmental practice of endorsing or promoting religious or legal practices that are inconsistent with the foundational Judeo-Christian principles that have historically shaped Australian law and culture;
- Realigning legislation to foundational Australian values where needed;
- Holding a Royal Commission into federal and state government responses to Covid-19;
- Increasing defence spending to at least 3 per cent of GDP;
- Protecting Australians by banning Chinese-made electric vehicles from Australian roads, to avoid national security and safety risks;
- Enhancing Australia's national security through supporting the AUKUS and ANZUS treaties and strengthening these alliances.
