Central Texas Interfaith Commends AISD Board for Rejecting Chapter 313 Deal with NXP

We commend the AISD Board for showing courage and leadership in refusing to participate in Chapter 313, a failed program that cost taxpayers over a billion dollars a year, money which could be going to public schools. Today they stood with students, teachers, taxpayers and ordinary citizens across the state in voting against NXP's request of $100 Million in tax breaks. Over 40 CTI clergy and leaders presented at the school board meeting tonight and have worked tirelessly over the past 6 months fighting this proposal. This past legislative session, Central Texas Interfaith, Texas If and allies stopped the reauthorization of Chapter 313. This vote today signals a new day for AISD, which turned a new page in their commitment to partner with the community in building a stronger district and a stronger school funding system in Texas.
