

WALK THE TALK

An Interfaith Response to Polluted Runoff

Faith communities can be good stewards by implementing stormwater projects to help our local waterways.

Keynote speaker Rev.
Dr. Angela Shepherd

St. Martin Rain Garden

Tree planting at a
Jewish Synagogue

Join Blue Water Baltimore and Interfaith Partners for the Chesapeake at the free Walk the Talk forum on Sunday, April 26 to learn how faith communities in Baltimore have worked to make a difference towards decreasing stormwater runoff.

A series of speakers will provide information about technical, organizational and financial assistance available to help congregations reduce their stormwater utility fee.

SUNDAY, APRIL 26
3 pm - 5 pm

Cathedral of the Incarnation
4 East University Pkwy
Baltimore MD 21218

Register online: www.interfaithchesapeake.org/wttbalt4-2015

For questions contact bonnie@interfaithchesapeake.org or (p) 410.465.0427

