

Seeking Services: Next Steps and What to Expect

Effective July 1, 2026

Call our 24/7 domestic violence crisis hotline
1-877-949-0515

For crisis calls, crisis services, and domestic violence referrals in the LTADD, call 1-877-949-0515.

A certified advocate from GreenHouse17 will respond to immediate safety needs, including

- safety planning;
- options for temporary shelter if the safety risk is immediate;
- referrals to community partners in the Lincoln Trail ADD;
- and a warm handoff to the DV program providing DV services in the Lincoln Trail ADD.

GreenHouse17 crisis line advocates will conduct an initial assessment and provide appropriate referrals, including referrals to a ZeroV member program for ongoing support.

Access services and support through ZeroV's Domestic Violence Program network.

For survivors in Marion, Washington, and Nelson counties, Bethany House Abuse Shelter will provide ongoing services, community referrals, and case management.

For survivors in Meade and Breckinridge counties, The Center for Women and Families will provide ongoing services, community referrals, and case management.

For survivors in Grayson, Hardin, and Larue counties, Barren River Area Safe Space (BRASS) will provide ongoing services, community referrals, and case management.

For survivor support groups, GreenHouse17 will be providing access to virtual support groups for survivors in the Lincoln Trail ADD. To learn more, contact the Lincoln Trail ADD crisis line 1-877-949-0515.

For legal advocacy, survivors should reach out to the Lincoln Trail ADD crisis line at 1-877-949-0515. If they already have an advocate at a neighboring program serving their county, they can work with that advocate on their options for court advocacy.

Stay safe and informed every step of the way.

Beginning July 1, 2026, survivors in the Lincoln Trail ADD will be accessing services through neighboring ZeroV member programs.
