

Tucker Carlson Fact-Bombs January 6 Delusion; Regime Goes Hysterical

Over Monday and Tuesday of this week, Tucker Carlson used his primetime slot<sup>1</sup> to dismantle the carefully sculpted delusion which constitutes the regime's "official line" on the events of January 6, 2021. He used security camera video previously only available to the farcical Congressional J6 Committee but released in February to Carlson by Speaker Kevin McCarthy, to deconstruct the manufactured narrative.

The response by the regime was immediate and very violent. Senator Chuck Schumer went to the Senate floor on Tuesday and demanded that Tucker Carlson be completely censored—that he be taken off the air. Senator Mitch McConnell blubbered that Carlson had made a bad "mistake" and should immediately cease and desist. By Wednesday, the Biden White House had joined the hysteria in full froth<sup>2</sup>. As Carlson noted on Tuesday night<sup>3</sup>, the reaction demonstrated that Schumer and the nominal Republicans who joined him in condemning the release and public showing of the actual video from January 6th were "on the same side" and united in their disdain for the people of the United States.

The U.S. government has arrested and charged more than 1,000 people for the January 6 riot; the Justice Department says it will still be arresting 200 more. Meanwhile there have been no serious prosecutions of the rioters of the summer of 2020—riots which were far more violent and deadly. In addition, they are attempting to prosecute President Trump for January 6th after orchestrating a phony impeachment of the President based on the same events. Both the current Special Counsel investigation and the impeachment aimed at preventing a Trump second term as demanded by the British House of Lords and other oligarchical globalist formations<sup>4</sup>.

More than 100 of the J6 defendants have been jailed under brutal conditions prior to trial for many months at the DC jail, dubbed the DC Gulag by its inhabitants. Few defendants have had access to the actual video of the riot, most of which the government has kept under a rigidly enforced protective order, allowing prosecutors to cherry pick scenes which benefit the prosecutors. They have denied any exculpatory footage to defense attorneys. The government has also completely resisted unveiling the many federal agents operating among the protesters—or what they did in the course of January 6th and the run-up to it<sup>5</sup>.

As we have repeatedly emphasized, any examination of January 6th without considering the year-long regime change deployment to rig the election and defeat Donald Trump, seriously distorts the reality of what happened. Through such operations as the Transition Integrity Initiative, the regime mapped out its conspiracy to rig the election while also planning for the possibility that Trump might win. If Trump won, the plan was to unleash violence—using Antifa and other assets throughout the United States to instigate a military coup if necessary<sup>6</sup>.

Any violence orchestrated by provocateurs on January 6th should be put in this context and the attention by House Republicans now investigating these events should be focused on the year-long operations of the actual coup plotters and on the deliberate sabotage of security arrangements for the Capitol by DC Mayor Muriel Bowser, Speaker Pelosi, and then Senate Majority Leader Mitch McConnell. McConnell, who played a key role in the failed and absent security measures for January 6th, said he was “exhilarated” by the J6 riot because it “finally discredited Donald Trump,” which was obviously part of the plan.

By Wednesday, the regime was airing distorted quotes from the ongoing lawsuit by Dominion Voting against Fox News, the center of which was a text by Tucker Carlson in the wake of the January 6 riot saying he passionately hated Donald Trump. Whatever hysterical reaction Carlson and others had to the January 6 riot, everyone who follows him knows that Carlson does not now hate Donald Trump but views him with unbridled fascination.

Tucker’s Monday show demonstrated that once inside the Capitol many demonstrators, including the famous Q Anon Shaman, Jacob Chansley, were accompanied by Capitol Police in a largely peaceful tour of the building. Chansley, who is a diagnosed schizophrenic, is spending four years in prison for the symbolism he provided to the narrative, dressed as a Shaman with face paint and horns and carrying a flag mounted on a long pole which the government deemed a violent weapon. As his attorney emphasized, he was never violent, he was psychologically devastated by his jail conditions, and his attorney was never provided with the exculpatory footage Tucker Carlson showed.

Carlson also showed video of Officer Brian Sicknick, who the Democrats and allied Republicans said had died when Trump supporters bashed his head in with a fire extinguisher, alive and energetically walking through the Capitol long after his alleged injury. Sicknick died of a stroke the day after the riot, according to the DC Medical Examiner, and had no injuries consistent with the media’s claim which was repeated over and over again in the weeks following his death. Nancy Pelosi and Mitch McConnell arranged for the equivalent of a state funeral for Sicknick, with his body lying in state in the Capitol, not to honor Sicknick but to stoke their narrative. Sicknick’s family now maintains that his confrontation with demonstrators did contribute to his death and is pursuing a multi-million dollar wrongful death law suit now against President Trump. Earlier they had said that the Pelosi/McConnell/media narrative was false. This is how truth gets obscured and discarded in the regime’s Washington.

Carlson showed that the J6 Committee’s accusation that Senator Josh Hawley exhibited overt cowardice when he ran out of the Capitol was based upon a deliberate doctoring of the tape by the J6 Committee. Finally, Tucker Carlson’s forensic examination of the tape proved that the provocateur, Ray Epps, lied to the J6 Committee regarding his whereabouts during the breach of the Capitol. Epps remains the sole person caught on tape inciting and virtually ordering demonstrators into the Capitol building. He was obviously deployed by some U.S. or foreign intelligence agency, but he has been completely protected by the regime.
