

Culture statement

7th February 2026

What is culture?

Our shared way of life, the soul of our nation

Morality, customs, behaviours

Art, music, architecture, literature, film

Laws, traditions, language, food, faith

Shared history, values, freedoms, beauty, justice

Social bonds, rituals, education, family life

British culture is our civilisational operating system – built over more than a thousand years

What does culture matter?

We built the safest and most prosperous nation on Earth

Culture was the foundation of our stable, prosperous society. It provided our moral compass and led to our civil institutions.

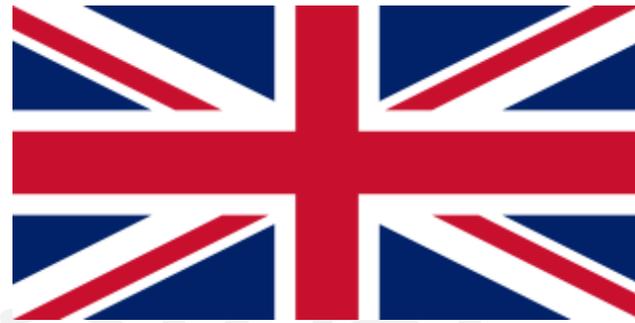

We were bound by our shared history and purpose. Culture passed wisdom down generations. It created the social cohesion needed to withstand threats.

Without our culture, we lose our moorings – the United Kingdom ceases to be a nation

How does culture work?

Culture, Law and Experience

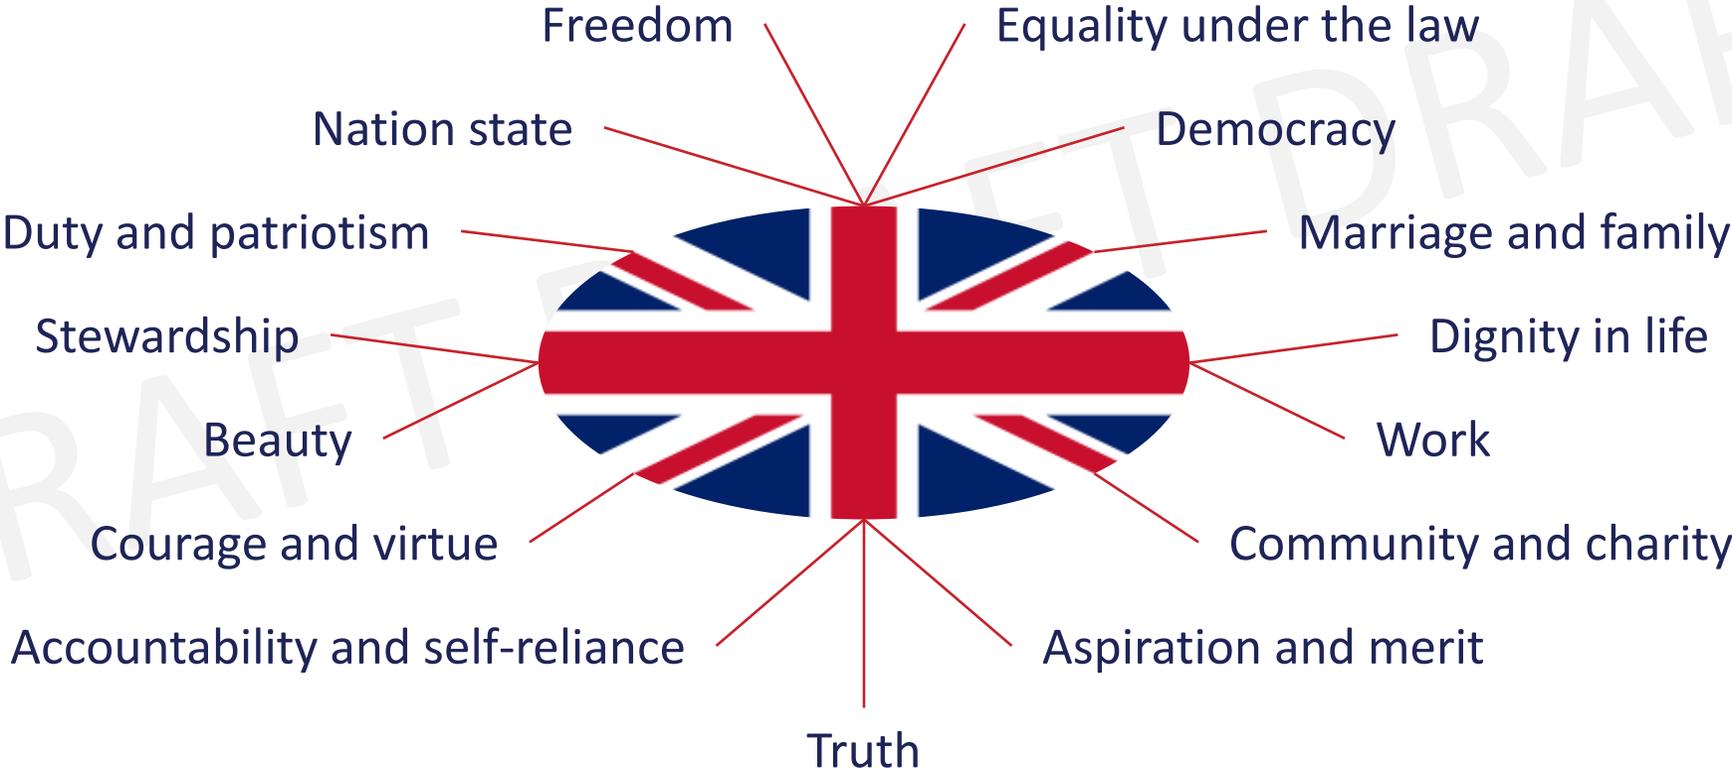

Our experience shapes our culture
Our culture shapes our law
Our law shapes our experience

Protect our culture or risk our security and prosperity
