

REBECCA PERKINS KWOKA STATE SENATE

Hi,

With summer coming to a close, Colby's first birthday (pictures below!) and a hot campaign trail have been keeping me busy. The last few weeks have brought so much fun! This is when State Senators start thinking about the legislation they hope to introduce in the following year. Personally, I'm thinking about grid modernization, protecting the rights of women and LGBTQ+ state-wide, and continuing to support affordable housing protections.

So speaking of getting knees deep in our democracy, the women of New Hampshire (and all of us!) deserve everything we can do this fall to leave it all on the field. Not sure where to start? Start here with us.

'Dive into Democracy'

Organizing Party 8/31

Do you care for New Hampshire and want to help it grow? Maybe you're not sure where to start?

Dive into Democracy Organizing Party

Hosted by Senator Perkins Kwoka

224 Broad St
Portsmouth

Wednesday
August 31st, 5pm

*To win in 2022, we need to organize with
YOU! Come join
Team RPK to meet
our neighbors, learn how to support local candidates, and dive into grassroots organizing for the 2022 election.*

Come join my team and OrganizeNH for the 'Dive into Democracy' Organizing Party! We'll be together tomorrow (Aug 31st) at 5:00 pm to meet our neighbors, share how the 2022 campaign is going, and explore organizing together.

You can expect snacks, community, and a summer night of fun and activism where you can figure out where to plug in in 2022 to get your voices heard!

Please feel free to bring friends and families! RSVP at:

Cup of Joe with me and Sho 9/1

This Thursday at 6:00 pm, myself and Alderwoman Shoshanna Kelly - and special guest Representative

Pappas!- will be enjoying live music and having a 'Cup of Joe' here in Portsmouth! Please see more details and RSVP here:

<https://fb.me/e/3qLCBOTqK>

Shoshanna is a one of a kind public servant for good, running for Executive Council. Our state needs more people like her in office to lead with heart, kindness, and effective leadership.

As Emily's List candidates, Shoshanna and I are both giving our all to this election and we'd love to share our stories and connect with you over coffee, music, and a great night.

The poster is divided into two main sections. The left section has a purple background with white and yellow text. It features the names 'SHOSHANNA KELLY' and 'REBECCA PERKINS KWOKA' with their respective campaign logos for Executive Council and State Senate. Below them is the 'EMILY'S LIST' logo with the tagline 'ignite change.' The main title 'CUP OF JOE W/ RPK AND SHO' is in large white letters, followed by 'SPECIAL GUEST: CONGRESSMAN CHRIS PAPPAS!' in yellow. The right section shows two photographs: a close-up of Shoshanna Kelly smiling and a full-body shot of Rebecca Perkins Kwoka standing outdoors in a pink blazer.

WHAT'S HAPPENING?

Join Special Guest Congressman Chris Pappas and our host, Portsmouth Assistant Mayor JoAnna "Jo" Kelley, for an evening in support of two fantastic EMILY's List endorsed candidates, Rebecca Perkins Kwoka for NH Senate and Shoshanna Kelly for NH Executive Council. Live music starts at 7pm.

White Supremacy Op-ed

Thank you to the Portsmouth Herald for sharing my op-ed and thoughts about the white supremacist activity in our State today; it's really important that we all are talking about our state honestly, and using these perspectives to make choices during campaign season. I'd love to share it with you!

Sen. Perkins Kwoka: Hate is not welcome in Portsmouth or anywhere in New Hampshire

<https://www.seacoastonline.com/story/opinion/columns/2022/08/21/sen-perkins-kwoka-hate-not-welcome-anywhere-new-hampshire/7838058001/>

As I said here, “Not only do these experiences threaten to create violence and instability, but they are harmful to our community. Granite Staters feeling unsafe and unseen will dampen our economy and community well-being by not allowing each person to participate to their fullest potential. If we allow individuals to tell our neighbors they don’t belong - however that looks - we let harmful actions become acceptable. We allow a new, lower standard of respect of each other to take hold.

But that is not the New Hampshire I know. In New Hampshire, we all decide what is acceptable in our state, together. In New Hampshire, when we say "live free or die," we mean that all Granite Staters deserve to be free from discrimination and hatred; that each of us deserve the space and opportunity to thrive. And in New Hampshire, if we fail to recognize this, we lose the spirit of our state. If we fail to call out these serious injustices and let them remain, we fail our neighbors and jeopardize our future."

New Hampshire needs us to vote this fall. Our state needs us to speak out against injustice and harm, if we want it to stay this vibrant and special. We have to fight for the state we deserve, by being neighbors to all and remembering that a home is earned, not just given.

Oyster River Farm Day

The Kwoka Clan explored farms throughout Durham, Madbury, Lee, and Portsmouth, petting lots of horses and sheep on the trail! Farm Day is a yearly event hosted by local farmers and community members to support local business, share crops and animals, and meet the neighbors that allow us to eat local.

We had a ball checking out Fat Peach Farm, Linden Woods Farm, Emery Farm, and bringing Colby and Logan along to explore with us. The flowers and horses were a big hit.

Colby's First Birthday!

We celebrated Colby's first birthday with lots of cake and our friends and family; wow, Colby loves cake. She was scooping up frosting and smiling with icing on her face for at least an hour, no matter how many napkins were involved.

The next month will have lots of celebration; my 40th birthday, Logan turning three, a new school year! I'm extra grateful for these little moments, especially as life speeds up.

Speaking of birthdays; put September 19th at 5pm in your calendar for my 40th celebration at Loaded Question!

Thanks for getting involved on the campaign trail with me, hope to see you Wednesday and Thursday at our events! Have a great week, enjoy this warm end of summer.

Best,

Rebecca
