RADC December Meeting Summary

In December, we met together (face-to-face!) in Sylvan Park to celebrate the holidays and all that we have done over the course of a very busy 2022. We did not flip the district currently occupied by Jay Obernolte, but we will be working hard over 2023 and 2024 to make sure this happens. There will be lots to do, both here in our community and with our representatives in Washington (especially with the Republicans in charge in the House).

January 2023 RADC General Meeting will take place in Sylvan Park on Saturday, January 21, at 11 am. Mayor Eddie Tejeda will join us to provide us with an update and hear from us.

Social Media Update

In light of all that has been going on with Twitter under the leadership of Elon Musk, #RedlandsDems cancelled our Twitter account in December and joined the beta site for Post.News. This platform appears to be stable, with responsible and responsive owners and managers, and we are looking forward to the public launch, which should be coming soon.

So, check us out on Post.News! We are Redlands Dems @RADCintheIE.

Local Alert

Local anti-LGBTQIA+ members of our community, along with outside hate groups, continue to focus their sights on Redlands. Proud Boys (who are not necessarily from Redlands) are continuing to tag, via stickers, sites around our city; they are also specifically targeting Safe Redlands Schools, which has been speaking up for our students and teachers and the wellbeing of our community as a whole. Please review the upcoming schedule of Redlands Unified School District Board meetings over the next year, and try to attend at least one: <https://www.redlandsusd.net/board>.

Also, review the upcoming Redlands City Council meeting schedule over the next year, and try to attend at least one a quarter, either in-person or virtually. If necessary, be prepared to speak up if the Proud Boys, etc., show up: <https://www.cityofredlands.org/meeting-agendas-minutes>

This is our community and our city. We need to stand up peacefully and vigorously against these hate groups and the hate- and fear-based lies being spread by a very small group of individuals from our community.
