Presidents Day Weekend Conference in NYC
America's Next 50 Years

Will the United States return to our historic anti-colonial identity and join the new paradigm of peaceful economic cooperation typified by the rapidly expanding agreements among the BRICS (Brazil, Russia, India China, South Africa) nations for nuclear power and new pipelines, high speed rail, modern ports and space exploration, or will we continue on the fast track to hell, which has accelerated under President Biden, and will lead to possible thermonuclear war, or minimally, a total physical collapse of our nation to accompany the moral and cultural degradation already expressed by leading members of Congress and the globalist banksters who own them?

Since the unjust witch hunt against presidential candidate Lyndon LaRouche, which finally resulted in his incarceration in January of 1989, no qualified presidential candidate has been allowed to even consider seeking that office. So we now face the greatest crisis in human history, with a senile old man at the helm, and presidential candidates who are not up to the task, although still seen as potential disrupters of the British Empire, as Donald Trump clearly is, as well as Robert F. Kennedy, Jr.

The question confronting us all is, "How do we create a political change in the United States which will cause our government to do what is actually required in order to ensure our survival?"

This Presidents Day Weekend Conference is dedicated to pulling the natural leaders together from around the nation and around the State of New York to make this happen. That is why my campaign for U.S. Senate, is not a "local" campaign, but a national and international one. Please get your ticket today, and make your plans to be there in person.

Conference tickets are $25.
