

You're about to disclose your donation to the VEC.

The following pages show you how to register and create a password, and then how to make your disclosure.

The VEC website is not very user-friendly, so please follow each step carefully.

If you need any help, please email info@shimaibuki.com.au

Alert :

There have been changes to Victoria's political finance laws following the passage of the Electoral Further Amendment Act 2026. Please visit our website to find out more information about donation disclosure laws. Pay close attention to this information as obligations have changed.

Eligible registered political parties and independent candidates can apply to register as a new entrant. Registered new entrants can receive donations from a single donor up to twice the amount of the general cap. Please visit our website for further information, including how to apply.

We are making changes to VEC Disclosures to accommodate the new laws.

Disclose a donation

IMPORTANT: In accordance with Part 12 of the Electoral Act 2002, donations must not exceed the general cap of $5,030.00 from any one donor to any one recipient within the election period. For the purpose of the general cap, a registered political party, its endorsed candidates, elected members and its nominated entity, are all considered one recipient.

Penalties may apply for non-compliance and any amounts over the general cap may be forfeited to the State.
