

Bill Hill is a commercial fisherman, former school superintendent.

2 other democrats running in the primary, this would be a flip red to blue seat

Matthew Schultz (Anchorage presbyterian pastor),

John Brendan Williams (commercial fisherman with no campaign website)

He has never been a registered democrat or republican and he won't say where he will caucus in congress, this is a nonpartisan primary

Incumbent: Nicholas Begich (R)

Endorsements:

National Education Association, Working Class Heroes, Sen Donny Olson (D), fmr spkr Bryce Edgmon (D), representatives Maxine Dilbert (D), Robyn Niayuq Frier (D), Rebecca Himschoot (I), Ky Holland (I), Calvin Schrage (I)

FEC shows 2025 funding mostly small business donations, with a shit ton of $5.10 each from Virginia.

He raised $1.9million and had $83K remaining. Shows no funds raised for 2026

Platform

Protect Alaska's fisheries

Make billionaire and big corps pay their share

Cut taxes for small businesses and the middle class

Ban congressional stock trading

Healthcare coverage we can afford (expand Medicaid coverage and extend federal healthcare subsidies, caps on prescription drugs)

All of the above approach for cheaper energy (get the most out of our oil and natural gas, restore tax credits to bring online new renewable projects)

Stand up for public safety and first responders

Support veterans

Reduce the deficit

End billionaires buying our elections (overturn Citizens United)

Alaskan access to high quality mental health and addiction treatment

Champion community schools (investment and retaining control)

More vocational training, apprenticeships, career, and technical education

New projects that create good Alaska jobs

Stand up for a woman's right to choose

Defend our right to own guns

Give Americans the "right to repair" our own stuff
