

HYBRID WORK
WORKS

Hybrid Work Works

Protecting flexibility. Defending fairness. Delivering results.

What You Need to Know

- Hybrid work is a core working condition - not a perk
- Proven to support productivity and recruitment/retention

What We're Fighting For

- Push back against arbitrary return-to-office mandates
- Protect rights secured through Collective Agreements

Why It Matters

- Supports a modern, high-performing workforce
- Advances equity, accessibility, and inclusion

Hybrid work has proven to deliver results - supporting productivity, collaboration, and work-life balance. As pressure grows to roll back these gains, the Society is taking action to protect hybrid work as a fair and permanent working condition.
