▪ Legal Resources:

- You have 15 days to decide whether to challenge a ticket. Read more about what to do if you receive a ticket or if your rights are violated:

Tickets and Legal Resources

Know Your Transit Rights!

- Bus and streetcar drivers cannot refuse you service for not paying for fare.
- If your 2-hour transfer ends while you are on a TTC vehicle, you have the right to complete your trip. If you transfer to another vehicle, you will need to pay another fare.

Provincial Offences Officers and TTC Special Constables

- Provincial Offences Officers and security guards cannot search, arrest, or detain me and can only use force in self-defence.
  - Only TTC Special Constables and police can search, arrest, or detain me.
  - Ask "Am I under arrest or being detained?" If the answer is no, I can refuse to be searched and I can leave.
- If I do not provide my ID to an Officer or a Special Constable, I could be fined.
  - Officers and Special Constables must have their body cameras on while interacting with riders.
  - I have the right to record fare enforcement staff and police and to know their name and badge numbers. I can file a complaint if transit staff mistreat me or others.
