He Mihi

Ngahiwi Apanui
Chief Executive

Observe the chisel
Its blade carving a course
Raised above, to let fall below
The voice of its drive
Call forth the deity of the sky to me.

Tear the sky
Rip the sky
Carve out your enlightenment
To elude the evil unknowns of the night.

Strip the sapwood, my chisel
So my bargeboard is of heart alone
So the carved paths can be studied
In them, the awakening of my Māori language!

Stand, oh bargeboard, fascia of the crown
Raise up my house, the house of a living tongue
My language is permanent, spoken by everyone!

It is important to acknowledge those we've lost. Those who cleared the way for us and who now rest as stars in the sky in the bosom of Ranginui. May you shine down and inspire your descendants as we go about revitalising the language you handed down to us. Rest in peace.

To the agencies and many strands of the public sector, I send you warm greetings. Despite the trying circumstances which have affected us all, you have stayed the distance to ensure we meet the challenge.

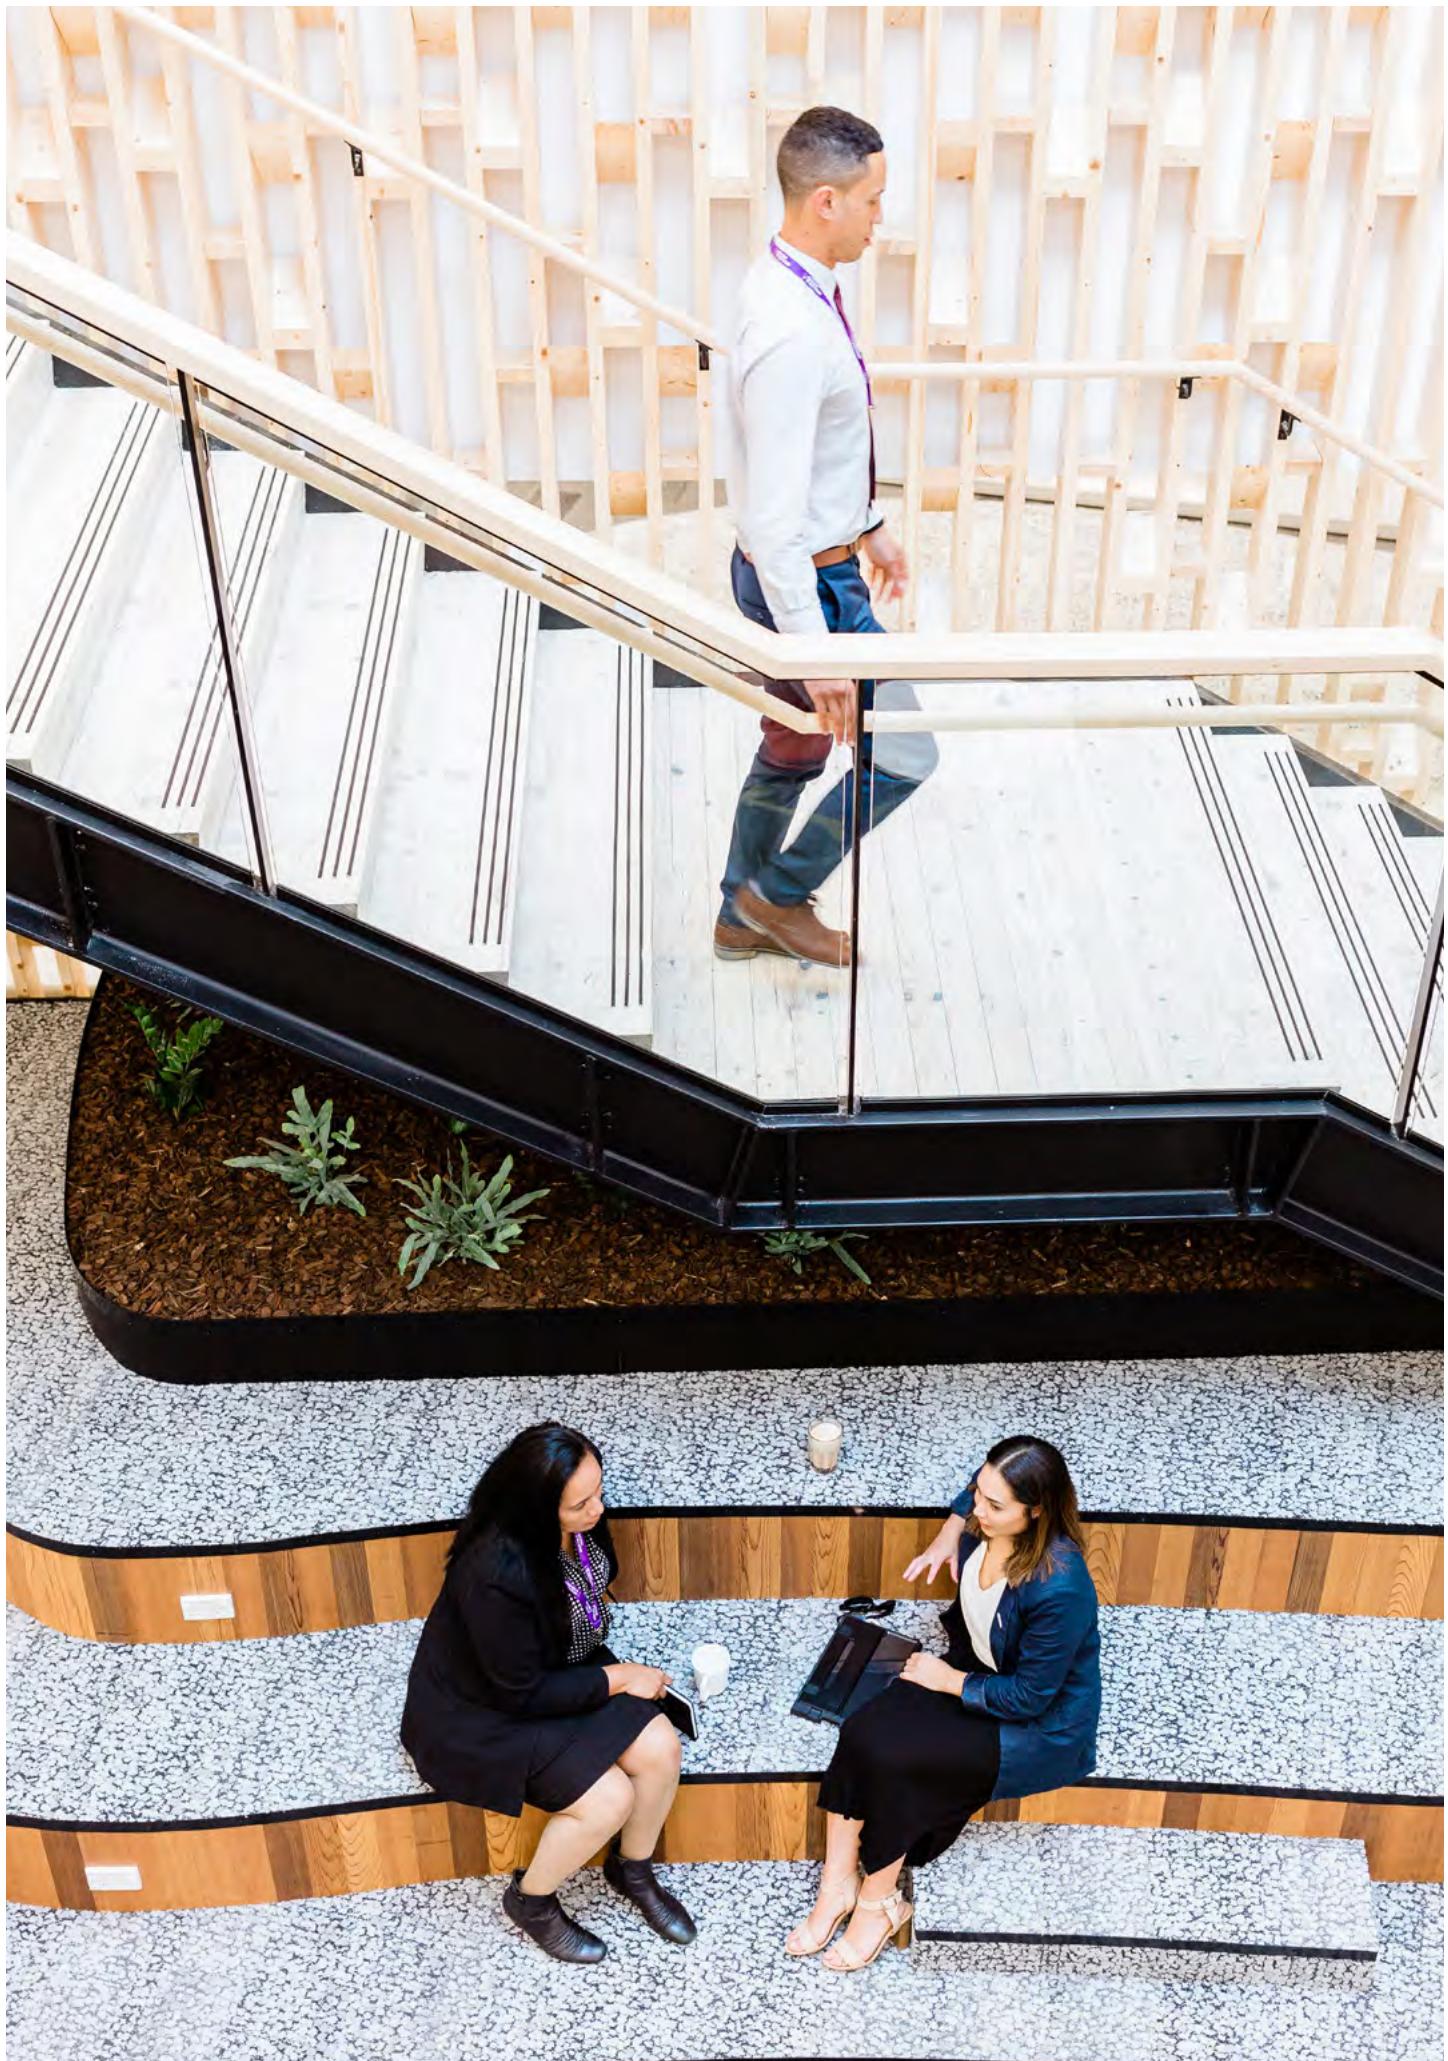

Thanks to you all who have worked tirelessly as evidenced in this report. In all 94% of agencies completed the questionnaire – and in doing so have given us a clear picture of what has been achieved in this financial year. Most agencies also completed a Māori language plan, to work through in the next financial year. For that I express my heartfelt thanks.

Some of the key highlights include the establishment of staff positions as designated language champions. Some have engaged the assistance of language experts to support you, or to teach you the language. Some have renewed the signage at their agencies. Others have composed unique songs for their organisations, and are learning them within the workplace, to bring language into the space. There are many other achievements that have arisen this year, and they all support the Crown's vision to be fully bilingual in the future.

Just as I began by acknowledging those who have passed, I encourage you all, e aku rangatira, to turn quickly to the task at hand, and tend to our precious language. Thank you all.

Chief Executive

This Annual Report focuses on the implementation of the Maihi Karauna strategy, the Crown's Māori language revitalisation strategy, for the 2020/21 year.

It sets out how public service departments, departmental agencies, and relevant entities (referred to as agencies) have contributed to the Maihi Karauna, and reports on:

- a. the outputs agencies are delivering under the Maihi Karauna
- b. the costs invested by agencies to deliver the Maihi Karauna.

This is the second report on agency contributions to the Maihi Karauna strategy since its development in 2018. A Maihi Karauna Annual Report was completed for the 2019/20 year, followed by a mid-year progress report in March 2021.

Two concurrent formative evaluations looking at progress towards the implementation of the Maihi Karauna strategy and Te Whare o te Reo Mauriora are being undertaken over this financial year. Together with this report, the evaluation findings will provide valuable insights into how the Maihi Karauna and Te Whare o te Reo Mauriora are being implemented.

Background

► Te Ture mō Te Reo Māori 2016

Te Ture mō Te Reo Māori 2016 created a partnership for the revitalisation of te reo Māori between the Crown and iwi and Māori¹. In this Act, the Crown expresses its commitment to work in partnership with iwi and Māori to actively continue to protect and promote te reo Māori for future generations.

The legislation acknowledges that iwi and Māori are the kaitiaki of te reo Māori, while recognising that the Crown is able to advance the revitalisation of te reo Māori by promoting strategic objectives in wider Aotearoa society. Both parties are therefore required to work in active partnership to promote the knowledge and use of te reo Māori². The partnership is expressed through the metaphor of Te Whare o te Reo Mauriora. The two sides of the partnership are represented by the maihi (bargeboards) on each side of the whare. The kōruru, or carved figure at the apex of the house, is the shared vision, kia mauriora te reo Māori.

By 2040, 1,000,000 New Zealanders (or more) will have the ability and confidence to talk about at least basic things in te reo Māori

By 2040, 150,000 Māori aged 15 and over will use te reo Māori at least as much as English

APPROACH

Whakanui – create the conditions for te reo Māori to be valued by Aotearoa whānui as a central part of national identity

Whakaako – create the conditions for te reo Māori to be learned by Aotearoa whānui

Whakaatu – create the conditions for te reo Māori to be seen, read, heard and spoken by Aotearoa whānui

PRIORITY GROUPS

Ngā tamariki me ngā rangatahi
Young people

Rāngai Tūmatanui
Public sector

Tāngata matatau ki te reo
Proficient speakers

The partnership is governed by Te Rūnanga Reo, a partnership group between Ministers and board members of Te Mātāwai³. Te Ture mō Te Reo Māori 2016 established Te Mātāwai to represent iwi, hapū, whānau, Māori and communities in this relationship, on one side of the whare. The other side of the whare represents the Crown⁴. At an operational level, Te Papa Kōrero, the chief executive forum, provides leadership and coordination for the implementation of the Maihi Karauna and Maihi Māori.

The legislation requires that the Minister for Māori Development issues, on behalf of the Crown, a Maihi Karauna strategy that sets out:

- › the Government's objectives and policies, and related matters, relevant to the revitalisation of te reo Māori
- › the Government's long-term strategic direction, and the current and medium-term priorities, to support that revitalisation.⁵

► Maihi Karauna Strategy 2019–2023 – an overview

The Maihi Karauna strategy was approved by Cabinet in December 2018. The Maihi Karauna is intended to create the societal conditions for te reo Māori to thrive, and to ensure that government systems support that. Kia māhorahora te reo is the Crown's vision for te reo Māori which expresses government's role to ensure that New Zealanders value, learn and use te reo Māori. When this vision is achieved, we expect that te reo Māori will be a normal part of daily life for wider Aotearoa society and that te reo Māori will be used by everyone, every day, every way and everywhere.

As part of this vision there are three outcomes. This is what is expected within a generation, as a result of language revitalisation efforts:

1. Aotearatanga (nationhood)
2. Mātauranga (knowledge and skills)
3. Hononga (engagement).

The Maihi Karauna vision has three audacious goals intended to unite the effort of different agencies over a long term:

- › Aotearatanga: By 2040, 85 per cent of New Zealanders (or more) will value te reo Māori as a key part of national identity.
- › Mātauranga: By 2040, 1,000,000 New Zealanders (or more) will have the ability and confidence to talk about at least basic things in te reo Māori.
- › Hononga: By 2040, 150,000 Māori aged 15 and over will use te reo Māori at least as much as English.

The Crown is able to draw on resources and influence to create progress towards the outcomes and audacious goals. The theory of change approach taken through the Maihi Karauna strategy has three key elements:

- › Whakanui – create the conditions for te reo Māori to be valued by Aotearoa whānui as a central part of national identity.
- › Whakaako – create the conditions for te reo Māori to be learned by Aotearoa whānui.
- › Whakaatu – create the conditions for te reo Māori to be seen, read, heard and spoken by Aotearoa whānui.

Priority groups for the Maihi Karauna were selected:⁶

- › Tamariki and rangatahi (young people) are a priority group because they are the leaders of tomorrow, and the value they place on te reo Māori and their knowledge and skills will be important factors in revitalising te reo Māori.
- › Tāngata matatau ki te reo (proficient speakers) are a priority group because a critical mass of proficient speakers is required for te reo Māori to be viable as a living language.
- › Rāngai tūmatanui (public servants) are a priority group because New Zealanders (including Māori) interact with government organisations and entities every day. These interactions include the delivery of government services, and occur face to face across the country, as well as over the phone and online.

Priority groups have informed the current and medium-term priorities of the Maihi Karauna. These priorities represent where the Crown intends to focus its attention and resources over the period of the Maihi Karauna. Agencies of Te Papa Kōrero have been selected to convene or co-convene these priorities. Convening refers to the agency or agencies responsible for facilitating coordinated actions within their sector⁷. Table 1 sets out the priorities and the agencies who are convening or co-convening these.

► Public service enablers

The public service has an important role in supporting the Crown in its relationships with Māori under Te Tiriti o Waitangi. The Public Service Act 2020 recognises that public service leaders are responsible for developing and maintaining the capability of the public service to engage with Māori and to understand Māori perspectives. The public service has a duty to support and advise the Crown on meeting its Treaty obligations, which include active protection of te reo Māori as a taonga. As part of this, the Public Service Commission has a responsibility to ensure the public service is meeting these commitments, including to increase the capability (i.e., strengthening and valuing te reo Māori).

Whāinga Amorangi, the Māori Crown Relations Capability Framework,⁸ is a key enabler for te reo Māori revitalisation within the public service. Driven by provisions of the Public Service Act 2020, the framework requires agencies to identify individual capability components. The framework contains six individual competency areas for public servants, one of which is te reo Māori.

Te Taura Whiri i te Reo Māori prepares the Maihi Karauna Implementation Plan on behalf of the convening agencies of Te Papa Kōrero. Table 2 sets out the chief executives of agencies who are currently members of Te Papa Kōrero. Over time, as the Maihi Karauna becomes more embedded, it is expected that the number of agencies will continue to grow.

The implementation plan sets out the key activities, target groups, timeframes and measures those agencies will undertake within the defined time period of the plan.

Consecutive annual plans allow the Crown to take a staged approach to implementation, progressively moving over the lifetime of the five-year strategy, from 2019 to 2023. The 2020/21 plan details Te Papa Kōrero agencies' contributions to the Maihi Karauna.

Information

How did we gather information for this Annual Report?

Quantitative and qualitative information contributed to the development of this Annual Report:

- a) Desktop review of key documentation (language plans and accountability documents):

Cabinet required that by 30 June 2021 all public service departments and departmental agencies were to have developed a Māori language plan and were to reflect these in their accountability documents.⁹ As of 30 June 2021, there were 33 departments and departmental agencies as some had either disestablished¹⁰, were newly established¹¹ or formed part of another agency¹². Based on this, 31 (of the 33) had registered their language plans with Te Taura Whiri i te Reo Māori by 30 June 2021.

- b) Reporting on the Maihi Karauna Implementation Plan through Te Tokomatua:¹³

Te Taura Whiri i te Reo Māori disseminated a reporting template to Te Papa Kōrero agencies to collect reporting information against the activities and qualitative and quantitative measures set out in the Maihi Karauna Implementation Plan 2020/21. The success of this approach was subject to the availability of the reporting information from each of the agencies being received in quarter one 2021/22 so that this Annual Report could be prepared.

Due to COVID alert level changes in August 2021, agencies were unable to report on their performance against the Maihi Karauna Implementation Plan at the scheduled Te Tokomatua hui. Instead, performance assessment, where available, has been sourced through the Maihi Karauna Implementation Plan progress report (March 2021), agencies' surveys, one-on-one interviews and emails.

- c) Survey¹⁴ of agencies to identify Maihi Karauna activities and other reo revitalisation activities: These surveys were completed between August and October 2021.

Of the 33 agencies invited to participate in the Maihi Karauna survey, 31 completed surveys (94 per cent response rate). Te Māngai Pāho, Māori Television Service and Te Taura Whiri i te Reo Māori were not invited to participate in the survey as the Cabinet directive did not require them to have a language plan. Instead, information was gathered through one-on-one interviews to help understand their contributions to the Maihi Karauna during the 2020/21 year. Table 3 provides an overview of the agencies that:

- › were interviewed
- › were invited to participate in the survey

► Limitations

Some limitations affected the information contained in this Annual Report:

- › Interruption by COVID alert level 4 occurred over August and September 2021, the key period at which information was being gathered for this Annual Report.
- › The consequences of COVID lockdowns and the need for agencies to prioritise COVID related work meant that information could not be gathered from Te Papa Kōrero agencies on their delivery against the implementation plan for the 2020/21 year.
- › Two agencies are yet to register their language plan. Of these, one did not participate in the survey. Therefore, any Maihi Karauna contributions from that agency are not portrayed in this report. One agency which has registered its language plan did not complete the survey.
- › The information provided by agencies may not capture the full breadth of activities and initiatives that they are implementing, and therefore activities may be understated in some cases, or not included.
- › None of the information supplied in the surveys has been audited or checked to verify its existence, quality, quantity or delivery. Information presented in this report relies on what was provided by agencies as set out above.

Presentation

How is this report presented?

The *Monitoring and Evaluation Framework for the Maihi Karauna*¹⁵ outlines the specific focus areas for the monitoring of the strategy through an annual report. These focus areas include agency activities and outputs or outcomes through measures and indicators.

The 2020/21 Maihi Karauna Implementation Plan reframed the definition of outputs and costs to provide agencies with a better understanding of how to respond to the two areas of interest.

a) Outputs are defined as 'how are responsible agencies contributing to the Maihi Karauna'¹⁶ where agencies are more likely to identify a range of activities (internal- and external-facing) rather than specific outputs they delivered. While there are identified qualitative and quantitative measures¹⁷ contained in the implementation plan, the impact of COVID hampered agencies' ability to report on these for the 2020/21 year.

Agencies' contributions are assessed by looking at:

- › progress towards achieving the current priorities of the Maihi Karauna, including the targeting of priority groups
- › progress on the approach and whether conditions are being created for te reo Māori to be valued, learnt, seen, read, heard and spoken
- › agencies' Maihi Karauna activities.

Refer to section 7 of this report

b) Cost was determined by asking agencies to provide information on the cost of implementing Maihi Karauna activities, including language plans and any work associated with Te Papa Kōrero. Cost includes specific resources such as funding, materials and FTE positions.

Contributions

How are agencies contributing to the Maihi Karauna?

► Understanding the Maihi Karauna

The increased visibility and maturity of the Maihi Karauna strategy over the past three years has enabled more widespread understanding of how the strategy is to be applied and implemented by agencies.

Compared to the previous year, the survey results showed that agencies could better detail what the strategy is (through their language plan), and how it applies to their role and responsibilities to achieve the Maihi Karauna outcomes. The Maihi Karauna makes agencies consider the wider implications of the Crown-Māori relationship, and how they can give effect to the principles of partnership, participation and protection and Te Tiriti o Waitangi. The Maihi Karauna also enables agencies to build a national sense of the value of te reo Māori and its uniqueness to Aotearoa.

Te Papa Kōrero agencies have a deeper understanding of the Maihi Karauna and the implications for them as contributing agencies. Te Papa Kōrero agencies implemented specific actions to target the Maihi Karauna priority groups of tamariki, rangatahi, tāngata matatau and rāngai tumatanui to learn, use and hear te reo Māori. For example, the Māori Television Service increased the reo Māori content for tamariki and rangatahi during prime time.

► Development of language plans

Over the past 12 months, an additional 28 language plans were registered with Te Taura Whiri i te Reo Māori in accordance with the Cabinet directive¹⁸ for all public service departments and departmental agencies to have a Māori language plan by 30 June 2021. This brings the total number of registered plans to 31. Two agencies are yet to complete their language plan.¹⁹

More than half of those that completed language plans, based them on the Maihi Karauna, and their reo Māori revitalisation activities linked directly to its priorities and outcomes.

Each agency took a unique approach to developing their language plan. Māori Television Service, Ara Poutama Aotearoa: Department of Corrections, Statistics NZ, New Zealand Customs Service and the Department of the Prime Minister and Cabinet surveyed their staff to better understand proficiency levels, preferred delivery styles and the level of value that staff placed on te reo Māori. The results were used to inform their language plans.

Many agencies aligned their language plans to Whāinga Amorangi, the Māori Crown Relations Capability Framework (in addition to the Maihi Karauna).²⁰ The Ministry of Business, Innovation and Employment aligned their language plan to both. One of the key outcomes in their language plan is that te reo Māori is incorporated across everything they do, as they progress towards becoming a bilingual organisation by 2040. The Ministry for Culture and Heritage also seeks to become a bilingual agency by 2040.

Some agencies used the five language planning principles of use, acquisition, status, corpus and critical awareness to plan their activities to revitalise te reo Māori. This framework ensures that efforts are directed and co-ordinated in an effective manner to enable revitalisation.

19. Te Papa Atawhai (Department of Conservation) will have their language plan completed before the end of 2021/22.

Maihi Karauna Activities – what is happening across the agencies?

Agencies are undertaking a wide range of activities and initiatives to support the achievement of the Maihi Karauna. While these are primarily internal, focused activities for their staff, the majority of agencies also have externally focused activities or services for the public, or their clients. We have arranged the type of activities using the Maihi Karauna theory of change approach:

- › Whakanui – create the conditions for te reo Māori to be valued by Aotearoa whānui as a central part of national identity.
- › Whakaako – create the conditions for te reo Māori to be learned by Aotearoa whānui.
- › Whakaatu – create the conditions for te reo Māori to be seen, read, heard and spoken by Aotearoa whānui.

Table 4 sets out the types of activities for the 2020/21 year. Appendix 3 provides more details of activities of agencies.

Table 4: Types of Activities undertaken by the Agencies

Agency activities against the Maihi Karauna Outcomes and Priorities

Table 5 presents examples of reo Māori activities and initiatives that agencies completed during 2020/21 to contribute to the achievement of the priorities and priority groups of the Maihi Karauna strategy. This includes internal (i.e. staff-focused) and external facing (i.e. public-focused) activities and initiatives.

More New Zealanders valuing te reo me ngā tikanga Māori as part of our national identity	31 agencies had registered their language plan with Te Taura Whiri i te Reo Māori by 30 June 2021. These plans outline how te reo Māori will be revitalised internally to support their staff, and externally to support the services agencies provide to the public. Whāinga Amorangi (Te Arawhiti), among other competencies, aims for all public servants to reach a comfortable level of competency in te reo Māori. Many agencies have referenced Whāinga Amorangi in their language plans as a guide to increasing the reo Māori knowledge and skills of public service staff. The Teaching Council of Aotearoa New Zealand recently updated the reo Māori and tikanga Māori requirements within its own registration and certification policy. Teachers must complete a specific declaration about their commitment to developing their skills and knowledge in “te reo Māori me ngā tikanga Māori”. While it is not a new expectation, teachers are now required to state whether this aspect is being met. All Ministry for Culture and Heritage funded Crown entities²¹ were encouraged to develop Māori language plans. The Department of Internal Affairs committed to increase the number of bilingual towns and cities²² throughout Aotearoa to support Māori language being embedded in local government. This involved developing strategies with six iwi and local authorities to increase the use and visibility of geographically authentic orthography. Additional work has been undertaken in conjunction with Te Puni Kōkiri and Te Taura Whiri i te Reo Māori to develop a toolkit.

22. Note that the DIA-led bilingual towns and cities project was originally under the priority area ‘More towns and cities embracing bilingualism’ within the Aotearoatanga outcome. Following their feedback on this annual report, DIA recategorised this priority to come under ‘More New Zealanders valuing te reo me ngā tikanga Māori as part of our national identity’.

Te reo Māori resources held by the Crown made more readily available	Digitisation of te reo Māori content has been achieved through Archives NZ and the National Library increasing access and digitisation of te reo Māori content. Regulatory advice on government recordkeeping is provided to public offices by Archives NZ, including the use and value of Māori metadata in the creation of records.
More value gained from te reo me ngā tikanga Māori for economic and social development	Applications for almost all Te Puni Kōkiri funds request information on how initiatives will contribute to and encourage the use of te reo me ngā tikanga Māori.
More towns and cities embracing bilingualism (Medium-term priority)	Waka Kotahi, Land Transport Agency , is changing road signage (including names of places) to correct reo Māori names.
More young people excited about te reo Māori	Te Puni Kōkiri and the Ministry for Youth Development are working in partnership to convene a regional rangatahi Māori leaders' forum using te reo and tikanga Māori as the foundation of the forum. The Rangatahi Suicide Prevention Fund of Te Puni Kōkiri supports initiatives which incorporate kaupapa Māori and tikanga Māori (i.e., have elements of cultural pride, identity, te reo Māori and mātauranga) as a fundamental component. Te Kura Huanui: Treasures of Successful Pathways is a collaborative report from the Ministry of Education, Education Review Office and Māori medium education peak bodies. It highlights and showcases the conditions for success of 18 raukura in Māori medium settings.
More people engaging with quality broadcast and online content in te reo Māori (Medium-term priority)	Te Māngai Pāho funded the creation of more than $64 million worth of audio visual content including music for distribution via television, radio, digital/ new media platforms together with a range of other activities to promote te reo and tikanga Māori. Ninety percent of samples of funded content were assessed as meeting the required reo Māori content for the intended target audience for the 2019/20 year.²³ Māori Television Service set up a panel to run regular audience surveys to determine whether they are helping audiences and whānau to engage with, and learn, te reo Māori. In their most recent survey, they found that 80 per cent of Māori and 66 per cent of all viewers agree that the Māori Television Service inspires and enables them to learn te reo Māori.

23. Target groups and reo Māori targets are: fluent speakers (70%–90% reo Māori content), second language learners (30%–70% reo Māori content) and receptive fluent (up to 30% reo Māori content). Note that at the time that this Annual Report was prepared, the figures for the 2020/21 year were not available.

Outcome: Matauranga (Knowledge and skills)

Priorities & priority groups	Examples of agencies' contributions to the outcomes and priorities of the Maihi Karauna
More children and young people learning te reo Māori	Mōu te Reo is the Ministry of Education campaign to inspire and support all tamariki and rangatahi in Aotearoa to learn in and through te reo Māori. The aim is for te reo Māori to thrive in all areas of education, and to make sure everyone knows the benefits of learning the language, including deepening learner knowledge and understanding of tikanga Māori. During lockdown, the Ministry of Education enabled tamariki, rangatahi and their whānau to access te reo Māori learning resources through a range of different mediums. The distance learning package supported those learning in and through te reo Māori to continue to engage in learning at home. Kura Whānau Reo is a new initiative that focusses on providing direct support to the whānau of tamariki and rangatahi learning in, or learning through, te reo Māori. It seeks to increase language use in the home and enhance whānau success through accessible and readily available support, including whānau language plans. The initiative is developed and led by iwi. The planning phase is near completion and the Ministry of Education is looking to implement it in 2022.
More people progressing beyond basic knowledge of te reo Māori	In 2020, Te Tari Arotake Mātauranga, the Education Review Office, provided a five-week compulsory te reo Māori course for all staff. For the 2021/22 year, compulsory lessons for all staff will occur every second week. Additionally, reo Māori scholarships were awarded to three staff members allowing them to complete reo Māori immersion study for 40 weeks to improve their proficiency. Over 570 teachers graduated from Te Ahu o te Reo Māori, which aims to normalise te reo Māori in the classroom. The Ministry of Education programme is expanding across all regions, with the intent that up to 40,000 teachers, leaders and support staff have access to this opportunity over the next four years.
More people highly proficient in te reo Māori (Medium-term priority)	Te Taura Whiri i te Reo Māori, Te Mātāwai and the Ministry of Education are supporting He Ara Poutama mō te reo Māori. This is a new tool to help forge a revitalisation pathway by forecasting the number of conversational and fluent speakers of te reo Māori from now until 2040. Under Te Ture mō Te Reo Māori 2016, Te Taura Whiri i te Reo Māori is authorised to license Māori language translators and interpreters to anyone who achieves the required standards. Te Toi Reo Māori is the licensing programme that consists of oral and written assessments and examinations. Te Kawa Matakura is a Ministry of Education rangatahi Māori initiative designed to develop excellent Māori advocates and highly proficient speakers to become future role models for their iwi and Māori, and ambassadors for Aotearoa. Testing of Te Kawa Matakura was completed in Te Tai Tokerau and the Ministry is investigating further opportunities to extend the reach of the initiative. Tau Mai Te Reo, the Māori Language in Education strategy by the Ministry of Education seeks to grow te reo Māori through education in English and Māori mediums. All learners will be able to develop some level of Māori language skills to support our national identity, while learners in Māori medium education will be able to develop very high levels of Māori language proficiency and use.

Outcome: Hononga (Engagement)

Priorities & priority groups	Examples of agencies' contributions to the outcomes and priorities of the Maihi Karauna
More use of te reo Māori in the home, on the marae, and in communities	The Ministry of Education issued Ki te Ao Mārama distance learning packs for tamariki and rangatahi in years 0–10. The packs supplemented the curriculum learning support provided by kōhangā reo, puna reo, kura and schools. Te reo o te kāinga was a key driver of the packs, which includes bilingual information about how to use the packs, a range of stationery, activity packs, pukapuka and te reo Māori learning resources. Over 40,000 learning packs were distributed.
More accessible public services in te reo Māori	Agencies commonly use reo Māori in their public-facing services and are supported to use it. Guidance, resources and support are provided to those people providing services to the public. Te Ara Manaaki is a bilingual functionality of online services sponsored by the Department of Internal Affairs. This provides easier access to key life event and identity services such as birth and death registrations. The Department of Internal Affairs also changed the ordering of titles of citizenship and passport online applications so that te reo Māori appears first. The Public Service Commission conducted Te Taunaki, the Public Service Census, to gain a better understanding of the diversity of public servants to help build a more unified public service. Of the 60,000 public servants throughout Aotearoa, approximately 40,000 responded. Questions asked which languages public servants could use to discuss a lot of everyday things and included te reo Māori as an option. The survey also asked questions about using, learning, valuing and hearing te reo Māori at their agency. Te Ao Mārama is a new model and project run in District Courts to provide an environment that is more equitable, people-centred, and better serving of its communities. Te Ao Mārama will operate in partnership with local iwi and local communities. Key features will include kaupapa Māori approaches including te reo Māori me ngā tikanga Māori

Challenges

Challenges, barriers and concerns

Agencies identified several challenges, barriers or concerns with undertaking Maihi Karauna activities. The main challenges that agencies faced were:

Increase in demand, and lack of capability and supply of te reo Māori expertise

- › the increased demand for reo Māori classes for the public service demand has far outstripped the availability and supply of appropriately targeted classes
- › the lack of available reo Māori expertise to teach te reo Māori to public servants, especially a service that can provide for large numbers within agencies on-site
- › the lack of supply of teachers with the ability to teach te reo Māori to rangatahi and tamariki
- › the continuing difficulty, in a tight labour market, of recruiting staff with strong reo Māori capability

Competing priorities

- › COVID-19 impact on Maihi Karauna work, resourcing and timeframes in some cases, resourcing set aside for reo Māori revitalisation activities were redirected to COVID-19 priorities
- › managing other priority workloads alongside the need to deliver against the Maihi Karauna

Other issues

- › reo Māori-speaking staff being expected to be reo Māori experts and undertake work outside of their job description
- › customer-facing services experiencing abusive behaviour through their use of te reo Māori, e.g. call-centre staff greeting the public in te reo Māori
- › funding for reo Māori activities not always prioritised
- › lack of dedicated and exclusive resources for Maihi Karauna work

08

Costs

What are the costs associated with implementing the Maihi Karauna?

Surveys requested that agencies quantify their budget and actual costs associated with their Maihi Karauna activities over the 2020/21 year. Some agencies were unable to quantify amounts as resources and costs were tied up in existing operational costs, including personnel supporting Maihi Karauna work alongside other work. Where agencies have provided figures, the amounts have been rounded, and categorised within limits. Most could quantify actual amounts, but not budgets; therefore actual costs have been used and are set out in Table 6 below. Unfortunately, with limited information on agencies' costs for external-facing reo Māori activities, the external costs are unable to be reported this year. In addition, the size of each agency relative to their spend has not been reported this year. It is hoped that these can be reported in next year in the annual report.

Conclusion

Concluding comments

The last 12 months saw a marked improvement on agencies' efforts reported in the 2019/20 year. Despite Te Papa Kōrero not being able to meet frequently, this did not detract from the individual or collaborative efforts of agencies to undertake Maihi Karauna work. The Cabinet requirement to have language plans by 30 June 2021, and the influence of the Public Service Act 2020 and Whāinga Amorangi, accelerated Maihi Karauna efforts that may not otherwise have been achieved.

The majority of agencies did not have the opportunity or means to measure their success in any of their reo revitalisation activities; however the recently developed language plans will enable them to measure their success in the current financial year's activities. It is hoped that the next Annual Report will be able to present performance against these success measures.

Some agencies have embedded te reo Māori into business as usual. Many are training to learn and use te reo Māori in a manner consistent with shifting attitudes and behaviours on a collective level. Māori language domains and increases in the use and quality of te reo Māori help agencies to create healthy conditions for revitalisation. It all takes time, planning, leadership, working with the willing and investing in the people to carry the strategy through.

Challenges were expected but were not necessarily problems for agencies. Agencies are committed to building organisational cultural capability and shaping a culture that embraces and responds to te ao Māori in a meaningful way. Aotearoa is experiencing unprecedented times and so being flexible and innovative with the ways in which agencies grow their cultural capability has provided its challenges. Despite COVID alert level changes, agencies continued to progress over the 2020/21 year to make a real shift towards achieving the outcomes of the Maihi Karauna.

Many agencies are realising that it is about understanding why te reo Māori is important for everyone. Once people engage in a setting to learn te reo Māori and embrace all that te reo Māori provides, people will really understand its significance and the positive impact it has for everyone.

Kōrero Whakamutunga

I ngā marama 12 kua taha ake i kitea kua tino pakari ake ngā mahi a ngā hinonga i pūrongotia i te tau 2019/20. Ahakoa kāore i taea e te Te Papa Kōrero te hui auau, i mahi takitahi, i mahi tahi rānei tonu ngā hinonga ki te tutuki i ngā kaupapa Maihi Karauna. Nā te whakahau a te Rūnanga kia whai mahere reo i mua i te paunga o te 30 Pipiri 2021, te whakaawe hoki o te Ture Ratonga Tūmatanui 2020 me te Whāinga Amorangi hoki, i horo te tutuki o ngā mahi Maihi Karauna.

Kāore te nuinga o ngā hinonga i whai wāhi, i whai huarahi rānei ki te ine i te nui o ngā painga i hua mai i ā rātou kaupapa whakarauora reo; engari mā ngā mahere reo kātahi anō ka waihangatia e āhei ai rātou ki te ine i ngā painga mai i ngā kaupapa o te tau pūtea o nāianei. Ko te tūmanako ka taea e te Pūrongo ā-Tau e haere ake nei te whakaatu i ngā whakatutukinga ki ēnei inenga angitu.

Kua whakatōkia e ētahi hinonga te reo Māori ki ngā mahi o ia rā. He maha te hunga e whakangungu ana ki te ako me te kōrero i te reo i runga tonu i ngā waiaro me ngā whanonga o te ao hurihuri. Mā ngā wāhi kōrero Māori me te nui ake o te kōrero me te kounga o te reo Māori e waihangi i ngā āhuatanga pai mō te whakarauoratanga. Mā te whai wā, te whakamahere, te arataki, te mahi tahi ki te hunga rikarika me te hāpai i te hunga kawe i te rautaki.

Ko te tikanga ka kitea ngā wero engari ehara pea i te raruraru mō ngā tari. E ū ana ngā hinonga ki te whakakaha i ū rātou āheinga ahurea ā-tari me te waihangi tikanga e tauawhi nei, e urupare nei ki te ao Māori mā tētahi ara whai tikanga. He wā tēnei kāore anō kia kitea e Aotearoa nā reira he wero nui te mahi tāwariwari, te mahi auaha ā ngā hinonga ki te whakakaha i ū rātou āheinga ahurea. Ahakoa ngā panonitanga ki ngā pae mataara KOWHEORI, e kauneke ana ngā hinonga i te tau 2020/21 ki te whakatutuki i ngā putanga o te Maihi Karauna.

Kua taka te kapa ki ngā hinonga maha ko te mea kē kia mārama ki te take he mea nui te reo Māori ki te katoa. Ina hono ai ngā tāngata ki tētahi wāhi ki te ako i te reo Māori me te tauawhi i ngā hua o te reo, ka tino mārama te iwi ki tōna hiranga me tōna pānga pai ki te katoa.
