Name Badges
Please wear your name badge during the events to show you are a registered attendee and to assist with networking.

Wellness Room
A wellness room/lactation space is available from 8:00 am to 5:00 pm each day. Please see a staff member for directions.

Event Surveys
We all know feedback is essential in improving programs. Please help us by completing surveys for both the sessions you attend and the overall event. If you have additional questions or comments to share, please email us at ruth@utculture.org.

Lost & Found
Any lost items should be turned into the Information Booth and will be held until Thursday, June 30 at 4:00 pm.

Attire
Expected attire is business casual. Please be ready for variable summer weather and air conditioning. If you will be joining us for one of the Excursions make sure to wear comfortable shoes.

Networking
One of the most important aspects of the event is the chance to meet your colleagues from around the state. These are your people! These relationships will be invaluable in the coming months as you tackle new opportunities and challenges. We encourage everyone to utilize social media - connect with each other on LinkedIn, follow UCA on Facebook and Instagram, subscribe to our newsletter.

For those attending in-person: Get to know each other by sharing a meal, chatting during a break, or carpooling to an excursion.

For those attending virtually: Attend sessions live and use the chat to converse with each other during the sessions.

In-Person Attendee Health & Safety Guidelines
The CDC’s COVID-19 Community Level status for Salt Lake County has shifted to HIGH as of June 16, 2022. CDC guidance recommends the following at the HIGH level:

• Wear a mask in public and on public transportation.
• Stay up to date with COVID-19 vaccines.
• Get tested if you have symptoms.

UCA is committed to keeping our attendees as safe as possible. The inherent risk of exposure to COVID-19 exists in any public place where people are present and UCA cannot guarantee that you will not be exposed to COVID-19 during the event. Based on CDC guidance we have updated our health and safety guidelines for Culture Connect as follows:

• Masks are encouraged throughout the run of the event while not eating, drinking, or presenting.
• We strongly recommend all attendees to be fully vaccinated against COVID-19 or test negative for COVID-19 within 7 days of the event.
• Attendees experiencing any symptoms of COVID-19 must switch to virtual attendance and notify UCA staff immediately (your information will remain confidential).
• Attendees may switch to virtual attendance at any time.

As an extra level of protection, attendees can also choose a color-coded button to show the level of social interaction with which they are comfortable. Buttons are available at the Information Desk.

Green – I am okay with pre-COVID behaviors such as hugs and handshakes.

Yellow – I desire some caution and respect physical distancing guidelines with elbow/fist bumps only.

Red – I desire extreme physical distancing and the highest precautions. I may be at high risk or caring for someone at high risk.

Please respect the boundaries set by your fellow attendees.

Virtual Attendance and Session Recordings
All registered attendees will have the option to attend in-person, online, or a mix. Attendees will receive an email with links to online sessions each morning of the event. Many of the sessions will also be recorded and accessible in the UCA Member Portal after the event.

If you have any issues accessing sessions online please contact Ruth White at ruth@utculture.org or 202.231.0549 for assistance.

Here are some guidelines for attending virtually:

• Be present. Think of the Zoom meeting as a face-to-face meeting and conduct yourself as you would if you were all present in the same room.
• Find a quiet space without interruptions.
• Join early – up to 5 minutes before the meeting start time so you can get settled prior to the start of the meeting.
• Keep your camera turned on.
• Mute your microphone when you are not speaking.
• Have good lighting on your face so you can be seen clearly and avoid backlight from bright windows.
• Adjust your camera to be at around eye level if possible – especially take note of the angle of your laptop screen if using the built-in camera.
• When possible use a wired internet connection. If using wifi try to ensure others are not streaming video on the same connection.
• If you wouldn’t say it out loud/in person, don’t put it in the Zoom chat. Respectful discourse only please.

Attend Sessions Virtually
Access links will be sent to registered attendees on June 29 and 30.

Session recordings can be accessed in the UCA Member Portal after the event.

WELCOME!

We are thrilled to gather for our first large event as an industry since 2020! Thank you for being here. We hope this gathering can be a moment of pause and connection for you.

Over the past two years, Utah’s cultural industry has become more resilient as we have risen together to face multiple challenges. We have pivoted (or twirled), reimagined, and become more flexible than ever before by responding to an ever-changing set of circumstances. These experiences have shown we are stronger when working together toward a common goal.

Utah Division of Arts & Museums and Utah Cultural Alliance Foundation are excited to host the inaugural Culture Connect at the Mid-Valley Performing Arts Center in Taylorsville. This two-day gathering for those working in the cultural industry will build connections while improving individuals’ professional and business acumen throughout the industry. Plus, because we are the cultural industry you can expect we will have fun while we do it!

As with so many things in the past couple of years, this event represents a shift in our industry. Utah Division Arts & Museums (UDAM) is pleased to partner with and support Utah Cultural Alliance in this new endeavor. Culture Connect expands on the Utah Division Arts & Museums’ annual Mountain West Arts Conference. This partnership allows each agency to build on their strengths, while serving our constituents.

We greatly appreciate our generous sponsors who continue to step up to support this industry and have made this event possible. Over this two-day event, you will be surrounded with people who have made a long-term commitment to Utah’s cultural industry as well as colleagues who provide services to help our industry succeed. Experts will be everywhere you look. Get to know the other connections while improving individuals’ professional and business acumen throughout the industry. Plus, because we are the Mid-Valley Performing Arts Center in Taylorsville. This two-day gathering for those working in the cultural industry will build connections while improving individuals’ professional and business acumen throughout the industry. Plus, because we are the cultural industry you can expect we will have fun while we do it!

We hope you will all be able to attend the reception at Dreamscapes as well as one of the excursions so you can experience firsthand some of the magic our community has to offer.

Enjoy!

501(c)4 Mission: Utah Cultural Alliance cultivates robust public investment in and policies that enhance the cultural industry and lifelong cultural education.

501(c)3 Mission: Utah Cultural Alliance Foundation, as the cultural industry association, communicates and amplifies the value of culture and supports creative professionals.

VISION
A Utah known nationally for its wide breadth of cultures where public and private investment in and equitable access to arts and cultural opportunities are prioritized and valued.

CORE BELIEFS
Culture defines Utah’s way of life, it’s in our DNA, and enhances the quality of living/visiting/working in Utah.

- Long-term and sustainable investment in Utah’s cultural industries directly and positively impact Utah’s economy.
- Utah’s cultural organizations foster thriving communities by improving long-term physical and emotional health and enhancing our quality of life.
- The cultural industry serves as a core component of the tourism, hospitality, and recreation industries that, when working together, directly benefit and develop Utah’s economy.
- A strong and enduring life-long cultural education provides critical 21st century skills that allow individuals to better communicate, collaborate, and creatively problem solve.

VALUES
Equity: We fight to ensure the cultural industry is representative of and available to communities of all socioeconomic, racial, ethnic, sexual orientation, gender identity, ability, and cultural backgrounds.

Collaboration: Because we know the cultural industry is stronger when we work together, UCA strives to develop long-lasting partnerships between individuals and organizations that allow us to better advocate for and support creative professionals.

Growth: We seek to constantly improve our understanding of other cultures, viewpoints, and systems that allow us to better serve the Utah cultural community.

WED, JUN 29

BREAKFAST AND CHECK-IN

8:00 AM–9:00 AM

Pick up your registration packet and enjoy a light breakfast with fellow attendees.

KEYNOTE

9:00 AM–10:30 AM

Welcome

Join your fellow attendees as we kick off Culture Connect.

Crystal Young, Utah Cultural Alliance

Danielle Bendinelli, Utah Cultural Alliance Foundation

Music & Mental Health

Music has been proven to elevate mood, improve focus, sleep, physical and mental health. Taking care of our mental health is more important than ever as the global pandemic marks two years. During this 60-minute program, Robin explains the science of music and the brain, and provides strategies for implementing music to reduce stress and anxiety.

Robin Spielberg, An Artist Spokesperson for the American Music Therapy Association since 2002, and founding member of the Mindful Music Association, Robin introduces the transformative power of music to communities everywhere.

CONVERSATION

11:00 AM–12:00 PM

Finding Volunteers Post Pandemic

Board Room [in-person]

During the pandemic, many of our volunteers were unable to serve. Now that arts and culture programs and venues are opening at full capacity, some organizations are finding the landscape has shifted significantly for volunteers. Join your colleagues for a conversation about what approaches are working to revitalize, recruit, and retain your volunteers.

Facilitated by Krystal Cardenas and Cami Munk, Salt Lake County Arts & Culture

LUNCH

12:00 PM–1:30 PM

Network with your fellow attendees over lunch while bidding on fabulous silent auction items.

WORKSHOPS

1:30 PM–3:00 PM

Ticketing Policy & Fraud

Main-Stage [in-person | online | will be recorded]

While secondary ticketing is a valid and legal marketplace, fraudulent and predatory practices are a constant pain point for the cultural industry. Department of Consumer Protections joins UCA to present this breakout. Consumer Protections will discuss their new reporting system that is required by the Ticket Transferability Act. This regulation was passed in the 2019 session but has not been enforced due to COVID. UCA and ArtTix will share non-regulatory strategies that cultural businesses can implement to protect their patrons. UCA will

THURSDAY, JUN 30

BREAKOUTS

11:00 AM–12:00 PM

Nonprofit is my Tax Distinction, NOT my Business Plan

Main Stage [in-person | online | will be recorded]

Tap into the effective business models that have led industries and businesses to success. Examine your own organization’s use of best practices and learn to better utilize proven methods of budgeting, cost savings, sales tactics, expense and income forecasting, and operational management. Participants will examine the world of earned revenues to support their organization’s mission. We will utilize a workbook to explore the important steps to becoming sustainable as a nonprofit organization.

David Driggs, Mighty Penguin Inc.
then review Utah’s current code regulating the secondary ticket market followed by a brainstorm and prioritization of needed policy change to ticketing regulation.

Engaging Your Board in Fundraising
Studio 5400 [in-person | online | will be recorded]
Fundraising is a core responsibility of nonprofit board members, yet all too often pleas for help from staff are met with silence or protestations of “but I don’t know anyone with money!” In this engaging workshop, participants will assess where their board is with respect to fundraising, consider their current fundraising program and goals, and identify a strategy and action steps to engage their board members in fundraising work.
Amberlie Phillips, Pathway Associates

Make Art! Paper Flowers, Piñatas & Pop-Up Books
Centennial [in-person]
This session will be led by three extraordinary U&AM teaching artists of Mexican descent: Clara Amezcua, Noemí Verónica Hernández-Balcázar, Frances Martinez Rogers. Participants are invited to make piñatas, pop-up books and paper flowers. Here is your chance to feed your artist’s soul under the amazing guidance of gifted artists. All materials provided. Recertification points available for educators.

GENERAL SESSION
4:00 PM–5:00 PM
An Artist Through the COVID-19 Pandemic: A Live Culture Bytes Podcast Q&A
Main-Stage [in-person | online | will be recorded]
UCA’s Culture Bytes podcast season 3 is documenting this unique period in our history by featuring reflections from Utah BIPOC and disabled artists on the dual pandemics of COVID-19 and deep-rooted racism. Join podcast host Ernesto Balderas for a live recording of the season’s final episode featuring a facilitated discussion with artists and cultural industry professionals about the impacts of the COVID-19 pandemic on their work, how they feel represented within the cultural industry, and what they feel their work might look like in a post-pandemic world. Catch up on past episodes at utahculturalalliance.org/podcast_culture_bytes.

Jen Lopez, Clever Octopus
Gabriella Huggins, Art Access
Moderated by Ernesto Balderas, Utah Cultural Alliance

This public event held in conjunction with Culture Connect is open to both the general public and registered attendees. This program has received funding from Utah Humanities made possible in part by the National Endowment for the Humanities. Utah Humanities (UH) empowers groups and individuals to improve their communities through active engagement in the humanities.

RECEPTION @ DREAMSCAPES
5:30 PM–7:00 PM
10450 S State St, Sandy, UT 84070 [in-person]
Join your fellow attendees for an exclusive preview of the newly re-imagined immersive art installation Dreamscapes, now located at the Shops at South Town in Sandy.
A project of the nonprofit Utah Arts Alliance, Dreamscapes is an immersive experience that follows a dream-inspired storyline through a polychromatic labyrinth born from the imaginations of more than 100 artists, volunteers and audio-visual wizards.
Perhaps most incredible, Dreamscapes is built using upcycled and reclaimed materials, making this Utah’s first environmentally-sustainable attraction. With partnerships from amazing organizations like 3 Form, Salt Palace Convention Center, Habitat for Humanity’s Restore and others, Dreamscapes diverts tons of waste from the landfill. The end result is a vision of beauty that knows no bounds, a manifestation all dreamers can embrace.
This reception is sponsored by Utah Arts Alliance.

DINE AROUNDS
7:00 PM–8:30 PM
Area restaurants [in-person]
After the reception, join your fellow attendees at a local restaurant for a pay-your-own-way dinner. This is a great way to keep your conversations going with your colleagues. Sign up lists will be available at the Info Table until 4:00 pm on Wednesday.
THU, JUN 30

UPN MEET & GREET
Centennial [in-person | online] 7:30 AM–8:30 AM
Join the University of Utah Presenters Network to chat about current industry trends while enjoying breakfast. All current members and anyone interested is welcome. A presenter is "an organization that selects, engages, and pays artists to perform before an audience as an ongoing and significant component of their organization’s activity and that contracts, markets and accepts financial risk for an art presentation that is not self-produced."

BREAKFAST AND CHECK-IN
8:00 AM–9:00 AM Lobby [in-person]
Pick up your registration packet and enjoy a light breakfast with fellow attendees.

GENERAL SESSION
9:00 AM–10:30 AM

Fostering Public Art Dialogue in Utah
Main-Stage [in-person | online | will be recorded]
Within minutes of beginning installation work for Out of the Blue, a life-size sculpture of a humpback whale by artist Stephen Kesler, the Salt Lake City Public Art Program experienced an unprecedented level of attention and public engagement. Much of the discourse surrounding this sculpture focused on Salt Lake City’s 9th and 9th neighborhood, community reactions, and the intrinsic value of public art. Using Out of the Blue as a starting point, participants will embark on a dialogue exploring the nature of public art in Utah, its value, and various community engagement strategies.
Renato Olmedo-González, Salt Lake City Arts Council
Hannah Barrett, Utah Division of Arts & Museums

Find the Unique You
Studio 5400 [in-person | online | will be recorded]
Learn how to tap into your unique skills and background and turn those into a clear brand statement that will differentiate you from the competition and clearly demonstrate your value.
Tori Ackerman, Adobe

Breaking Barriers: A Cultural Accessibility Project
Centennial [in-person | online | will be recorded]
Cultural organizations need to address disability and work to create exceedingly accessible spaces for people with disabilities. During this workshop, participants will learn how a state agency and non-profit teamed up to create accessibility training for cultural professionals across Utah. Participants will become acquainted with disability definitions and accessibility best practices before working to identify deficiencies in their own organizations and begin to draft an accessibility plan.

Amy McDonald believes "that the arts are one of the most non-threatening means society has to bring people together to engage in critical issues". Yet while the arts are indeed a powerful place for human and community transformation, access to funding, resources, and communities can be complicated, difficult, and sparse. It takes nothing short of a hard working visionary to build dozens of sustainable systems of expression, education, community engagement, and art over time through relentless resourcefulness and an unwavering belief in positive change. Amy's super power is her ability to listen to the culture around her and diagnose the needs, gaps, and potential of any given community. She knows how to build a team, elevate and empower individuals, include all voices, and build something meaningful with whole communities without excluding folks with ideas different from her own.

In 1995, Amy founded Brolly Arts, a non-profit umbrella arts organization, dedicated to creating meaningful art and vibrant communities through artistic and civic collaboration and experimentation. Through these efforts, Brolly Arts has sponsored or supported numerous local projects, served over 750 artists, and successfully engaged in multiple strategic partnerships, all while addressing global issues with local relevance. Brolly Arts is British slang for umbrella - an appropriate name for an inclusive non-profit arts organization focusing on positive social change. As Nancy Boskoff, Former Executive Director of the Salt Lake City Arts Council, said, "Brolly Arts has, from its inception, been an agent of change and community development through the arts for Salt Lake City. Every project undertaken has moved the arts community to work together and has creatively addressed many local and global issues."

Amy's positive ethos, work ethic, integrity, willingness to act, representation of all voices, and effectiveness are incredibly rare. Without her hard work over the last 30 years, there would be many seasoned artists and community builders who wouldn't have even begun their careers or had the chance to make the infectious impact they learned first from Amy and her big ideas! Ogden Contemporary Arts [OCA]

A vibrant, thriving, and one-of-a-kind, non-profit, exhibition and community arts programming venue in Ogden, Ogden Contemporary Arts (OCA) is one of Utah’s most brilliantly burgeoning fine arts communities. OCA began with a relatively meager start some 10 years ago, as ‘Ogden First’. Since that time, it has continued to grow in scope, size and outreach, and now commanding a national stature, enabling it to continue to more fully realize and engage in its core values, which are:

• to be welcoming: to break down existing and perceived barriers surrounding contemporary art.

• to be entrepreneurial: to be an established, valuable organization that takes risks and inspires change.

• to be inclusive: to be a vehicle for respectful dialogue, diverse representation, and unbiased opportunity.

• to seek excellence: to foster a contemporary art experience focused on excellence and accessibility.

With a recent gift from the Dr. Ezekiel R. and Edna Watts Dumke Foundation, OCA, has renovated key exhibition, studio and office space in the new Ogden landmark, the "Monarch". OCA not only anchors this building, but the distinctive "Nine-Rails Arts District" in downtown Ogden, serving the diverse communities of all northern Utah.

Inspiring local and regional artists through active involvement with the international contemporary art community, OCA strives to be viewed as a credible and internationally respected art establishment while empowering artists with the facilities, environment, and experience to excel in their medium and enrich their lives. With their groundbreaking exhibitions, OCA creates and shares globally influenced, culturally diverse, and technologically advanced art programming. OCA has quickly become another gem in the complex shimmer of the Northern Utah cultural scene.

Clara Amezqua
Artist
Born in Mexico City and raised in Toluca, Clara obtained her degree in Accounting and Business Administration, and worked as a sous-chef for ten years before turning to piñata making. Clara’s foray into the art of piñatas happened when she moved to Salt Lake City with her husband and two children. She wanted to show her children that despite the distance they could keep their traditions alive, one of which was Las Piñatas. Mexican Piñatas are a symbol strong because historical and cultural significance. Clara began by finding a piñata she liked and making it for her child’s birthday. She developed a passion for how colors and different fun shapes could be created in a piñata. She fell in love with the art form. Clara studied and practiced different techniques and designs for almost two years, improving her skill until she could create not only traditional piñatas but also custom made shapes and characters. Artes de Mexico en Utah has invited Clara to various arts festivals where she not only displays her art but teaches mini piñata making workshops. Her goal is for the community to learn about beautiful Mexican culture and traditions through piñata making.

Frances Rogers
Artist
I have been making Mexican paper flowers for over 20 years. I started helping my aunt Dolores Perez at Living Traditions about 1997. My aunt attended art schools in Guatemala about 40 years ago and was taught the old traditional methods of paper flowers. Over many years she changed many of the methods to her own style. I was able to do an apprenticeship with the Utah Arts council with my aunt in 2000. My aunt taught me the basics of paper flower making and also methods that allowed me to create my own style of flowers. I have taught at elementary schools, intermediate schools, churches, summer programs, Universities, Living Traditions, Rehabilitation programs, West Valley City Day of the Dead, and with school teachers individually. I am currently passing these methods onto my daughter and granddaughter. The paper I use is made in Mexico. I am an American, my family presided in NM from 1589 until the 1900’s when they migrated to Colorado, then to Utah in 1950. I make poppies, Lilies, sun flowers, roses, and many other traditional flowers. I enjoy the art and working with children and adults.
