Note: If consent is provided above, the member's details and a copy of this declaration will be provided to the Western Australian Electoral Commission.

A party requires a minimum of 500 members to qualify as an eligible political party that can register, and remain registered, with the Western Australian Electoral Commission. Each member must be enrolled on the Western Australian electoral roll and can check their enrolment details at www.elections.wa.gov.au/check. The member must also complete and sign this declaration confirming their membership of the party. Refer to section 62E of the Electoral Act 1907 for further information about applications to register a party.
