

Hospitality University Award for Excellence in Tourism Education

The Hospitality University Awards Committee is seeking nominations for the Excellence in Tourism Education Award which recognizes an individual, group of individuals, or a program that furthers the professionalism of the tourism industry through education or training.

The nomination should include a specific example(s) of an individual, group of individuals or a program that furthers the professionalism of the tourism industry through education or training. Nominees must be affiliated with a West Virginia tourism business, organization, or educational institution with a tourism track.

The awards will be bestowed at the Hospitality University Conference at The Greenbrier on February 24, 2024, during the closing luncheon. (Additional information and pages may be attached)
