For years, unexpected medical bills have devastated the finances of millions of families. The bipartisan No Surprises Act protects patients from being hit with these outrageous bills. But now, special interests are fighting to weaken the law, putting millions of families at risk. We need Congress and the White House to prioritize patients and keep protections in the No Surprises Act strong.

"The No Surprises Act – that you helped pass, is being threatened by special interests aiming to weaken its protections. This bipartisan law protects families across America from devastating unexpected medical bills. No wonder it’s supported by 90% of voters. Washington must not backtrack on protecting patients. What will you do to defend the law and ensure these strong patient protections remain in place?"
